SPORTING NEWS.

DOWN ROYAL (MAZE) MEETING—YESTERDAY.

INTERESTING RACING.
DEAD HEAT FOR MARATHON PLATE.

It is many years since steeplechasing was included in the programme at the Maze, and the couple of steeplechases run yesterday added considerable interest to the proceedings. As a matter of fact, the two jumping events provided the best races of the afternoon, one resulting in a short head victory, and the other a dead-heat. There was an exceptionally large attendance for an Easter Meeting, and, with the weather mild and genial, the sport was enjoyed under the most favourable conditions. The Barbour Steeplechase, the chief event of the day, brought out a field of nine runners, and the best fancied candidates were Snipe's Bridge and Tullygorey. Neither, however, had anything to say to the finish, Snipe's Bridge never flattering and Tullygorey failing before half the journey had been covered. Little Alice ran prominently to the last fence, where she was done with, and Deerfoot then joining Clonsheever the pair raced out a great finish to the post, the latter gaining the flat by a short head, but a mistake at the last fence probably lost the race for Deerfoot. Sir Huon failed to stay the three miles of the Marathon Plate, and was beaten half a mile from the end. Here again there was a long-drawn-out struggle, Perseverance and Ischevaha contesting every yard of the run home, and in this instance the judge was unable to separate them. Mr. Rankin's stable added another two-year-old race to its recent successes by winning the Juvenile Plate with Bon Secour, a daughter of Prospector, who scored in very easy style. Merry Miner, the favourite for the Down Royal Plate, ran in disappointing style, and the race fell an easy prey to Polish Prince. The Foxhunters' Plate was won by the well-bred Charles Lever, ridden by his owner, and this was Mr. James Daly's first winning mount. Courcelette for a time looked like troubling the winner, but she failed to put it all in at the finish, and Mr. Daly's horse won with a good deal to spare. Ellen Gibby followed up her Kells victory by easily accounting for the opposition in the Marathon Plate. Details:—

HUNTING.
THE KILKENNY FOXHOUNDS.
A GREAT HUNT.

Wednesday, 30th.—Meeting at The Parade, in Kilkenny City, the above pack brought off a hunt from Dunmore Park which probably ranks as the best of the many good runs that followers of the Kilkennys have enjoyed this season. Quickly finding in Dunmore, the fox was soon away over the big wall and across to Ruthstown and thence on to Carpenter's Glen, where our fox hung for a few minutes looking for some open badger earths, where several times this season hounds had been defeated. But this time all badger earths had been dug out and rabbit burrows stopped. Away hounds streamed to Ballyfoyle, and the big glen was crossed by the horsemen just in time to see hounds running over Mr. Shearman's big grass fields, across the road, and up towards Butler's Cairns, which was left on their right. For some time it looked as if the objective was to be Eskerty Wood; but, turning right-handed, the big heathery flats of the Brown Mountain were crossed, hounds running pretty hard. Now the pack was heading straight for Reevanagh, the second whipper-in galloping on to see that the big head of earths in the Moat were closed; but, on arriving there, found Mr. Brennan, the sporting owner, hearing the unexpected cry of hounds, in that district, had run out and closed them. Being thus baffled the fox then sank the valley for Ballysalla, running up the river close to Castlewarren. Here he could be viewed three fields ahead of hounds, and they were gradually wearing him down. A right-handed turn led the hunt by Freyneystown, and while evidently trying to reach Clara this stout fox was run into after one hour and fifty minutes. Many miles were covered—the best point was between 7½ and 8 miles, but hounds ran about 12 to 13 miles, at the lowest computation.

SPECIAL COAL FUND (NORTH SIDE OF DUBLIN). None who enjoy the comforts of the domestic hearth at this trying season can doubt the boon which a small supply of Coal affords those who are destitute of this comfort in the lanes and alleys of our city; and, this being so, few will doubt the pressing obligation which devolves on each, as the Lord hath prospered them, to co-operate in this effort. The operations of this Fund will be carried out on the same principles, and through the like agency, as has been so effectively done for 64 years at the North Side of Dublin—viz., the aid to be given without religious distinction, and dispensed by means of parochial clergy when practicable. NEW CHURCH TO OUR LADY OF LOURDES, LR. GLOUCESTER STREET, DUBLIN. A Temporary Edifice has been erected on the site secured for the New Church, which is badly needed in this locality. It is already crowded, and the Shrine has aroused a deep spirit of Devotion to Our Lady of Lourdes, with most beneficial results among the people. The Accommodation afforded by the Temporary Structure is inadequate. The Administrator strongly appeals to the Catholics of Dublin and of Ireland for the means to undertake the building of the New Church. The district being one of the most densely populated and poorest in the city, little pecuniary aid can be expected from it. The Holy Sacrifice of the Mass will be offered EACH WEEK for Subscribers. Subscriptions will be thankfully received by any of the Clergy, or by Very Rev. RICHARD BOWDEN, Adm., 83 Marlborough street, Dublin.

The Irish Elections.

If the political situation in Ireland were less desperate, its fantastic side would make a strong appeal to the national sense of humour. Within a few weeks elections will be raging for two Parliaments which three-fourths of the country repudiates and intends to boycott. The Government proceeds with its arrangements as solemnly as if it believed that everything would march on velvet. It has fixed the "appointed day" for the summoning of Parliaments which, until other days, still in the womb of time, have been appointed, will have no administrative departments, no control of finance, and no courts of law. The King has chosen Lord Edmund Talbot to succeed Viscount French as the first Viceroy of Ireland under the Home Rule Act. We congratulate Lord Edmund on his courage and, in happier circumstances, we should give him a hearty and unreserved welcome. If this Act were being enforced with the approval of all sections of the Irish people, the selection of a Roman Catholic Viceroy—a notable event in Irish history—would be accepted as an omen of new and better relations between the two countries. Unless, however, sanity and patriotism reform the entire situation during the present month, Lord Edmund Talbot will have the thankless and ridiculous task of summoning one Parliament which never will sit and another which will be disowned by a large minority of its electorate. Nevertheless, his proclamations will unloose a fresh storm of violence and anger upon our distracted land. Sinn Fein and the constitutional Nationalists have combined to contest all possible seats in the Northern Parliament. Yesterday Mr. de Valera made the important announcement that Sinn Fein has decided to nominate candidates for every constituency in the South and West. Of course these candidates, if elected, will refuse to take the oath of allegiance or their seats. Dail Eireann's purpose is to put the Southern Parliament out of action by capturing it for the party of revolution. Its success will impose upon Lord Edmund Talbot the duty of establishing Crown Colony government—a sad gift to Roman Catholic Ireland from her first Roman Catholic Viceroy.

The new Parliaments will be summoned on the third day of next month. Within six or seven weeks, therefore, elections for 180 seats will be held throughout the country. Every peace-loving Irishman must contemplate the prospect with a sinking heart. It is certain that elections held under present conditions in the South and West must be worthless as a true expression of the country's political views. It is certain that few moderate men will dare to present themselves as candidates. It is equally certain that the tumult and passion of the elections will put new and perilous responsibilities on the forces of the Crown. We need not labour these considerations, since we can convict the Government of foolishness out of its own mouth. We announce to-day that it has decided to abandon the proposed Irish Census—a necessity which we predicted on the day when the Census Act became law. The official statement explains that the project has been dropped because complete and accurate returns could not be obtained "owing to the existence of a state of rebellion in the South and West of Ireland and the disturbed conditions in certain other parts of the country." "No useful purpose," it adds, "would be achieved by holding a Census at heavy expense if the returns so obtained were either incomplete or misleading, as no statistics based upon those returns would be of any value." The Government's verdict on its abandoned Census applies even more strongly to its proposed elections. They cannot furnish a "complete and accurate" index of the country's political judgment. They must be held at "heavy expense" not merely of money, but of the public peace, and, perhaps, of the safety of voters and candidates and of the King's police and soldiers. Finally, if the elections are held under present conditions, the results will increase, in formidable and lamentable measure, the difficulties of an Irish settlement.

Surely there is a better way? Surely there is yet time for a great effort towards peace before these ill-omened elections are allowed to plunge the country into chaos and to entrench both the Government and Nationalist Ireland more strongly than ever in their opposing camps? If, during the next four weeks, Irishmen will take their destiny into their own hands, the whole situation may be redeemed. The Government wants peace, and certainly the Irish people want it. The Churches want it, and industry and commerce are pining for it. We note with sincere pleasure that the Earl of Midleton's recent appeal has resulted in a conference between Cardinal Logue and Southern business men, both Unionist and Nationalist. Mr. de Valera's latest pronouncement is couched—deliberately, no doubt—in vague and wide terms, but it accepts the possibility of settlement on a basis of reconciliation between Irish "rights" and English "interests." It would be an insult to the intelligence of both countries to suggest that conference and compromise could not effect such a reconciliation. An atmosphere of conference is the urgent necessity of the hour. The conflict of "rights" and "interests"—indeed, the very definition of these words—cannot be discussed with any profit under conditions of civil war. There can be no talk of settlement so long as murder stalks the land and good men's hearts fail them because of fear. If murder should cease to-morrow, the Government could afford to meet every Irish overture with an open mind and all the influences which are now working earnestly, but timidly, for peace would receive a vast impulse of strength. We are sure that the Government would be quite willing to postpone the Irish elections if it should receive guarantees of a truce as a preliminary to conference. Held under existing conditions, the elections must be an unmixed calamity for both countries.

The Miners' Strike.

The miners' strike began yesterday morning, and within a few hours the price of coal in Dublin was advanced by four shillings in the ton. The English railway companies have announced that from next Wednesday they will curtail their various services by from 20 to 25 per cent., and there is little doubt that the Irish companies will be forced to follow suit. The English people are meeting the situation with customary sang froid. They are fully conscious of the grave perils to which the miners' decision has exposed them and are determined to resist this attempt to bludgeon them into acceptance of impossible terms. The race meeting which was to have been held at Warwick on Monday and Tuesday has been abandoned; every possible precaution has been taken against an eventual extension of the strike to the railways and docks; and the Government is preparing to make full use of its powers under the "state of emergency" which has been proclaimed by the King. So far the strike has developed normally. In nearly every case the stoppage at the pits yesterday morning was complete. Numbers of the pump and engine-men, however, refused to leave their posts, and, as the colliery officials have undertaken the safety work in most of the mines, the immediate danger of destruction on any large scale is not great. Some of the pits in Warwickshire have been flooded, but, on the whole, the suicidal policy of the Miners' Federation has met with scant success. For the present there is no hope of a settlement. Most of the miners' representatives have left London, and the coal-owners also have returned to their homes throughout the country. The strikers, apparently, intend to apply for out-of-work relief under the new Insurance Act on the remarkable ground that they have been "locked out" by their employers. A more impudent assertion never was made. They have been told—and even Mr. Hodges admits—that the withdrawal of Government control necessitates the reduction of their wages; but nobody outside a lunatic asylum could argue seriously that the owners' action constitutes a lock-out. A test case will be decided during the coming week, and its result may bring the miners to their senses. Persistence in their present attitude must end in one of two ways. Either a revolution will break out or the Miners' Federation will be smashed. Nobody who knows the British people has much fear of the former alternative. The whole affair has been a ghastly mistake, and the order to flood the pits has united the whole nation against the miners. Until they recognise the error of their way and return to work like sensible men the people of these islands—Irish as well as English, Scottish, and Welsh—must stand firm in defence of their sovereign rights.

Coastwise Shipping.

Next week Sir Eric Geddes will meet the Chamber of Shipping with the object of restoring prosperity to the coastwise shipping companies. Their case certainly deserves sympathetic treatment. They assert that under the State subsidy the railways have instituted a system of "cut" rates for the carriage of goods from one port to another. These rates are so low—they range from 30 to 60 per cent. below the "class" rates charged by the railways for the transport of goods between inland towns—that the coasting trade cannot meet them. Consequently traffic that formerly went by sea has been diverted to the railways. Nearly two years ago, when the ports were congested and the railways were not able to cope with the vast stores of goods that had accumulated, the Ministry of Transport took steps to revive the use of coasting steamers. It decreed that, wherever possible, heavy material must be sent to its destination by water. The order had good results, but the "exceptional" rates remained. It must be admitted that their rearrangement will be a difficult matter. According to a witness who was examined by the Railway Rates Advisory Committee recently, there are eight million "exceptional" rates in existence and "to overhaul them would be the work of years." If coastwise shipping is to be saved from ruin, however, steps must be taken to shield it from unfair competition. The leaders of the industry suggest, as a temporary solution, that no "exceptional" rate in port-to-port charges shall be permitted that is more than 20 per cent. below the "class" rate. This scheme will be pressed at the conference.

Curfew and Summer Time.

Summer time will come into force to-morrow and will remain with us until October 3rd. Every householder should put the hands of his clock forward by one hour before he goes to bed to-night. If he forgets this simple duty, he may think on Sunday that "confusion now hath made his masterpiece." Farmers dislike these periodic changes and astronomers denounce them, but every other class in the community gives them a warm welcome. For the city-dweller they mean an extension of the time that he can devote to recreation in the open air and a considerable reduction in the bill for artificial light. Fortunately, the present change coincides with a relaxation of the Curfew Order in Dublin. From to-morrow night the citizens can roam where they like, except between the hours of 10 p.m. and 5 a.m., with no fear that they will be invited to spend the night at the Bridewell because they cannot satisfy inquisitive soldiers that they possess permits. Moreover, the curtailment of the Curfew hours means that the spectre of unemployment has been banished from many a home. The Tramway Company will need its full staff; the theatres and other places of amusement that have been closed recently will be able to re-open their doors; and the railway companies will be able to revert to their former time-tables. It is to be hoped that the 10 o'clock Curfew is but the precursor of further concessions. Last summer the only hours during which the citizens' movements were restricted were from midnight to 3 a.m.

THE IRISH CENSUS.

POSTPONED INDEFINITELY.

REFERRED TO THE NEW LEGISLATURES.

The following announcement was made yesterday by Dublin Castle:—

"Owing to the existence of a state of rebellion in the South and West of Ireland and the disturbed conditions in certain other parts of the country, the Government have come to the conclusion that, if a Census were held in the coming month, it would be impossible to obtain complete and accurate returns. No useful purpose would be achieved by holding a Census at heavy expense if the returns so obtained were either incomplete or misleading, as no statistics based upon those returns would be of any value.

"The Government have, therefore, decided to postpone the holding of a Census in Ireland on the present occasion. Under the Government of Ireland Act all responsibility in regard to the Census question passes to the Governments of Southern and Northern Ireland. It will be for these Governments, when they are constituted, to consider upon what conditions and at what time the Census shall be held in Southern and Northern Ireland respectively."

THE COST OF POSTPONEMENT.

The Press Association states that the decision announced above will result in a saving of £100,000 to the British taxpayer, inasmuch as the cost of the census when taken under the newly-constituted Governments of Ireland will be borne by the Irish people themselves.

In accordance with the Order in Council of the 9th March, 1921, summer time will come into force in Great Britain and Ireland at 2 o'clock to-morrow morning. All clocks and watches should be put forward one hour during the night of Saturday-Sunday. The Government particularly request that persons and bodies having charge of public clocks will ensure that the necessary alteration is made. The altered time will be used for all ordinary purposes, as heretofore. For instance, all trains will run according to the altered times, and all establishments where hours are regulated by law, such as licensed premises, factories, etc., will be required to observe the altered time. Summer time will come to an end at 2 o'clock Greenwich mean time (3 o'clock summer time) on the morning of Monday, the 3rd October next.

THE PRINCE'S SECOND STEEPLECHASE VICTORY

The King and Queen, with various other members of the Royal Family, motored to Hawthorn Hill yesterday from Windsor Castle in order to be present at the Household Brigade steeplechases, and they had the satisfaction of seeing the Prince of Wales win his second steeplechase victory. There were only three competitors in the race in which the Prince, mounted on Pet Dog, and wearing a red jacket, with blue sleeves and black racing cap, competed, and he alone completed the course without mishap.

OBITUARY.

MAJOR PETER G. GRIFFIN, D.S.O.

Intelligence was received in Limerick yesterday of the death, at Cairo, on the 29th ult., of Major Peter Gerald Griffin, D.S.O., R.F.A. Details are lacking, but it is known that Major Griffin's death was the result of a polo accident. Major Griffin was the eldest son of the late Mr. Peter G. Griffin, J.P., of Altavilla, County Limerick. He was aged forty-two, and had seen much service in the late war, in which he was awarded the D.S.O.

LONDON CORRESPONDENCE.

80 FLEET STREET, LONDON, FRIDAY NIGHT.

A conference took place in London to-day between Sir Daniel Hall, Mr. Floud, and Mr. Jackson, of the Ministry of Agriculture, and Mr. T. P. Gill and Mr. Prentice, of the Department of Agriculture and Technical Instruction for Ireland, to discuss the situation arising out of the discovery of foot-and-mouth disease in cattle which had recently come from Ireland. As a result of this conference it is hoped that the trade in fat animals will be resumed as soon as the position will allow the liberation of the Irish stock now detained for observation at the landing places in Great Britain. Plans for re-starting the store trade were also discussed, but no definite decision was reached. The matter is, however, still under consideration by the two Departments.

It is reported to-day that the stoppage of work at the mines throughout the country is complete, but that efforts are being made in many places to save the mines from being flooded, and with considerable success. Only in a few instances have the managers been unable to cope with the sudden danger thrust upon them. The Government have decided to stand aside absolutely, and will not intervene in the dispute. At the same time, they will do all in their power to bring the two parties together with a view to agreement, but, since the coal industry is no longer controlled, the Government hold that the coal-owners and the miners must settle their own difficulties. The Government is said to be in possession of information which leads them to believe that the acute phase of the situation will quickly pass. Elaborate arrangements are still going on to protect the public and its food supplies in case of necessity.

The Government intend to lose no time in making the necessary preparations for dealing with any emergency that may arise during the course of the national struggle now impending. It is impossible at the moment to see how far this struggle may be carried, and it is not unlikely that attempts may be made by extremists to promote trouble. A Committee of the Cabinet sat to-day to consider the steps to be taken under the provisions of the Emergency Powers Act. This Committee consisted of three lawyers, Mr. Shortt, the Home Secretary; Sir Robert Horne, the President of the Board of Trade; Sir L. Worthington-Evans, the Secretary for War; Mr. McCurdy, Lord Lee, the First Lord of the Admiralty; and Dr. Macnamara, the Minister of Labour.

The powers given to the Government under the Emergency Powers Act are almost unlimited, and it is quite possible that there may be some surprises in store for those who are trying to bring about a wreckage of the mining industry. The Government hitherto have not had the powers to take steps that were desirable, if not necessary, but now the situation is changed. It is said that some of the Labour leaders realise the fact and that they are somewhat uneasy as to the possible action of the Government. In order to avoid action that might quite upset their authority they are anxious that a quick decision shall be reached. This may be the real cause of the lightning strike.

A leader of the Miners' Federation admitted to a representative of the Evening Standard, before leaving for the Northern coalfields, that the call for a strike is the worst day's work the Federation has done. "We have hardly any money," he said, "and scarcely a district outside the Midlands can provide strike pay for a week."

A Court of Referees will be set up at once, and will meet on Monday or Tuesday to decide whether the miners will be entitled to draw out-of-work pay under the Unemployment Insurance Act. I mentioned yesterday that the Act expressly provides that men out of employment by reason of a trade dispute are disqualified. The question, however, can be referred to a Court consisting of members chosen to represent employers and insured contributors in equal numbers, with a chairman appointed by the Ministry of Labour. The decision of such a Committee will mean the saving on expenditure of millions of public money.

To meet an industrial struggle of the type now threatened the Government are in an exceptionally favourable position. The revenue returns have provided them with a big surplus, the weather is gradually becoming more favourable, the miners have no great reserves of capital, and the public are beginning to realise that there must be a downward movement in wages before there can be a real improvement in industry. Added to all these points, there is a disinclination among the miners, the railwaymen, and the transport workers to strike. The railwaymen recognise, if their leaders do not, that there are thousands of men ready and eager to take their places; and the same applies to the transport men. Motor drivers by the thousand are out of employment, many of them carefully trained while in the Army. Summer Time comes into operation on Sunday—another factor in the economy of light and fuel.

Lord Edmund Talbot is to be the new Viceroy of Ireland under the Government of Ireland Act. He is a brother of the late Duke of Norfolk, and Chief Whip of the Unionist Party. A tactful, genial, and clever man is required for such a post as a Parliamentary Whip, and Lord Edmund Talbot has all these qualifications, so that the new appointment promises well. He is a Roman Catholic, and was educated at the Oratory School at Birmingham. Since the death of the Duke of Norfolk he has been regarded as the first Roman Catholic layman in England, and is looked upon with the greatest respect by all the members of the Roman Communion. For the first time in her history Ireland will have a Viceroy professing the same faith as the majority of her people.

The Cabinet changes to-night followed expectation in the principal appointments, but there were surprises in the list. Sir Robert Horne goes to the Exchequer, and Mr. Baldwin becomes President of the Board of Trade in his place; but that Dr. Addison would become a Minister without portfolio was not expected, nor was the appointment of Sir Alfred Mond as his successor at the Ministry of Health. Mr. Kellaway, at the Post Office, is another surprise. The smaller changes are many, and will entail some by-elections. Taken altogether, the changes may be regarded as rather strengthening the Government.

The Chief Secretary, in reply to a request made by the National Free Church Council, has promised to receive a deputation on the question of reprisals in Ireland. The date has not yet been fixed, but it is expected that it will be on Wednesday next. The deputation is to include the Rev. R. C. Gillie, President of the Council; Dr. Meyer, ex-President; Dr. Scott Lidgett, Sir R. Murray Hislop, Dr. Clifford, and Sir Beddoes Rees. The idea has originated from the proceedings at the National Assembly of the Council, held in Manchester, and Dr. Clifford and Dr. Scott Lidgett are to address the Chief Secretary.

SINN FEIN AND THE ELECTIONS.

ALL SEATS IN NORTH AND SOUTH TO BE CONTESTED.

STATEMENT BY MR. DE VALERA.

THE TERMS OF PEACE.

In an interview published in the Nationalist newspapers yesterday, Mr. de Valera stated, regarding the forthcoming elections under the new Home Rule Act:—

"Dail Eireann is concerned with one question only—whether it should give its sanction to the holding of these elections or whether it should refuse recognition, place a ban upon them, and order the citizens to boycott them. As they can be made use of to prove once again how unalterably the heart of this country is fixed upon its independence, and how determined is the opposition of almost all sections of the Irish people to any attempt to partition their country into hostile camps, the Dail has decided not to place a ban upon the proposed elections. The duty of the Dail as the National Parliament and Government ends here—the rest is a matter for Sinn Fein and the other political parties. Our present intention is to put forward candidates in every constituency. I am confident that the people, who now realise to the full what is at stake, and how much world opinion in favour of Ireland will depend upon their votes, will return none but Republican candidates outside the six county area, and within the latter area that they will strive to return the greatest number possible."

MESSAGE TO IRISH PEOPLE.

Asked if he had any Easter message for the Irish people, Mr. de Valera replied—

"Only this—to hold firmly on. Our cause is just, and it will surely triumph. Let us finish the fight finally this time in order that it will not recur for our children and our children's children. The sacrifices we must make will be great, but the peace they will bring will be worth the price. Our losses as a nation in the fight will not be comparable to the losses we shall suffer by the political disturbance and uncertainty of leaving this question unsolved, or by continuing in a position of slavery [illegible] exploited by Britain. For the hundreds we are losing now in a manly fight for freedom, as conscripts, for example, in one of Britain's imperial wars we should lose hundreds of thousands—and in the ignoble business of imposing slavery on others.

"It was by readiness to face sacrifice and by the courageous acceptance of suffering and loss that we won the land war. The same spirit will bring us to triumph in this. We must act as a united people, and the enemy must be made clearly to understand that as against him we are one.

"Our farmers in particular must help us. As holders of the land of Ireland they are the real custodians of the nation's wealth. They have never wavered in their allegiance, and to-day we depend upon them to maintain the nation. . . . Now land broken up now will give employment and produce wealth. That land was used to save England's people from starvation in the world war. It must now be used to save Ireland's. . . . There must be as little consumption as possible of those things through which England extracts her revenue. Let us cut out, for example, liquor and cut down tobacco. We can easily save £10,000,000 for Ireland and deprive England of it.

"Let us as far as possible boycott English manufactures—we can in that way cut off from her many tens of millions. There should be one unforgiveable offence for any Irish citizen at the present moment—that of helping the enemy."

THE EXECUTIONS.

"What do you think will be the effect of the executions?"

"Simply this," replied Mr. de Valera. "Then men give up their lives for the Republic, and the Irishmen and Irishwomen who live will not be of the class that 'break faith with those who die.'"

"What is your interpretation of the British Prime Minister's recent speech in the British Parliament?"

"That Lloyd George, being a political opportunist himself, measures others by his own standard; that, being a moral coward himself, conscious of knowing the right course and of being afraid to follow it, he thinks that we are similar cowards. He seems to believe that, instead of wishing to lead our people to resist British tyranny, we desire to bid them to submit and surrender. He spoke of our being afraid to stand before our people and bid them 'abandon this and abandon that.' We do not desire to bid them abandon anything. We know full well that once the course of abandonment has begun there is no end. . . . The convictions on which our movement is based are honest convictions, and, holding them honestly, we should do our utmost to oppose any surrender of them if others proposed it. Why should Lloyd George think that in our hearts we desire to initiate such a surrender ourselves?

"We have, it is true, been careful not to allow ourselves to be manœuvred by him or by others into a certain position with respect to that conveniently elusive and indefinite thing, 'Dominion Home Rule.' Lloyd George would dearly like to be able to cry out to the world, 'Ireland will not take it,' when the truth is there has been no intention of offering it. We have not been so foolish as to play into his hands, but let him not make the mistake of misinterpreting us. If Lloyd George really wants peace and conciliation between the two nations, he can have them to-morrow on the basis on which alone peace and amity between nations is possible—on the basis of right and justice. Let the wrong which is being committed by the nation, or groups of nations, of which he is the responsible head, upon our nation be righted. Let the aggression of which he is guilty be ended. Nothing more is necessary. We desire no quarrel. We deny, and will continue to deny, that England's interests are on a par with our rights.

RIGHTS AND INTERESTS.

"We shall never admit that England may dictate to us any alliance or partnership that suits her interests. Any attempt at such dictation will have to be effected by force, and will rest on force alone. Lloyd George has never shown that he was prepared to deal with this question in the only way in which it can be settled—viz., as a question between two moral equals—a question between two nations on a level as regards rights. Because he has never indicated that he has any will for a just or final settlement, and because every act of his and of his associates, from the lying propaganda of Greenwood to his own play-acting in private and his working off 'Spenlow and Jorkins' on simple and well-meaning folk, has given evidence of nothing but gross insincerity. Lloyd George has simply been bidding to see if some section of the Irish people might not be foolish enough to make it easy for him to continue his game. The Irish people have been taught too many lessons to be trapped again. We sincerely desire peace. It is natural, in conditions like the present, that we should yearn for it from our very souls. We are conscious of nothing in our hearts but a spirit of fairness and good-will, but we are not going to make the mistake of imagining that the British Government is similarly disposed when we have definite daily proofs of the contrary. We are going to be careful to keep on our hearts the firm rein of our heads. It does not follow that because our misery or our weakness cries out for reasonable terms of peace, or some enemy propagandist implies that they can be got, that they are really obtainable."

Referring to the attitude of the Vatican towards Ireland, Mr. de Valera said—"Personally, despite all England can do, all her political intrigues and all her bargaining and manœuvring in Roman circles, I have not the slightest fear that she will secure a condemnation which every honest man must regard both unfair and unjust. To condemn us unheard would be to condemn every struggle for liberty. To condemn us on the ex parte statements of interested British Imperialists would be unthinkable for anyone with a moral or judicial mind, let alone for the Holy See."

A DAIL EIREANN "PROHIBITION."

BRITISH FARM IMPLEMENTS BANNED.

The Trades Department of "Dail Eireann" has issued a "Prohibition Order, No. 1," signed by the "Minister of Trade," in accordance with the powers conferred on the "Ministry" by "Dail Eireann" at its March session. The order prohibits the importation into Ireland of British makes of the following agricultural machinery:—Binders, mowing machines, horse rakes, swath turners, hay trolleys (rick shifters), ploughs, harrows, corn drills, and root cutters.

A foot-note to the notice states that it does not apply to the importation of machinery and implements from America or the Continent.

WEATHER FORECAST.

General Inference.—An anti-cyclone, extending over these islands from the south-westward, will cause fair weather generally, with light winds from the westward, in the North, and variable or easterly winds in most other districts. The fair weather will probably continue for two or three days in the South and South-East.

Ireland, North-West.—Wind westerly, light to moderate; cloudy or dull; visibility indifferent to fair; local fog; mild.

Ireland, N.E., S.E., and S.W.—Light, variable, or south-westerly winds; cloudy or fair; local fog; visibility indifferent to fair; mild.

FROM "THE TIMES" OF TO-DAY.

(BY SPECIAL ARRANGEMENT WITH THE PROPRIETORS OF THE TIMES.)

THE NEW VICEROY.

In a leading article, headed "Shuffle and Deal," The Times says:—Late last evening the Government issued a portentous list of new Ministerial appointments. It comprises twenty-two names—some good, some bad, and many indifferent. The name which will give the keenest satisfaction to the public—that of Mr. Illingworth, who cedes the Post Office to Mr. Kellaway—is not on the list at all. Another satisfactory name is that of Dr. Addison, who departs at last from the Ministry of Health and becomes Minister without portfolio. That, we trust, will mean a diminution of his opportunities to foist upon the public fresh bureaucratic measures involving further needless expenditure. Sir Alfred Mond replaces him. The chief recommendation of this appointment is that Sir Alfred Mond is not Dr. Addison, though what his special qualifications may be to watch over the public health we cannot say. Captain "Freddy Guest" lays down his Whip and takes to the Air, which, we hope—without much confidence—that he will beat to some purpose. His appointment has at least the advantage of putting an end to the anomalous position in which Mr. Winston Churchill, as Secretary for State for War, was also Air Minister, and carried these functions with him to the Colonial Office. Of a few appointments it is possible to speak with unqualified approval and with some confidence, such as that of Lieutenant-Commander Hilton Young to be Financial Secretary to the Treasury. He has real financial competence, and has had direct experience of the business world. Mr. Stanley Baldwin, whom he succeeds, passes to the Presidency of the Board of Trade at a moment when that office is acquiring greater importance in the national economy than it ever before possessed. His good record at the Treasury is a pledge of efficiency in the discharge of his new duties. Sir Philip Lloyd Greame should also "make good" at the Department of Overseas Trade.

Of the two major appointments on the list—that of Lord Edmund Talbot to succeed Lord French as Viceroy of Ireland, and that of Sir Robert Horne to be Chancellor of the Exchequer in succession to Mr. Austen Chamberlain—little can be said. Sir Robert Horne undoubtedly owes his promotion to the ability he showed as Minister of Labour, but especially to his personal fidelity to the Prime Minister. Whether he will have the strength and the ruthlessness in the national finances experience alone can show. He succeeds to a superficially satisfactory position which nothing, save the most vigorous retrenchment and the lightening of taxation, can prevent from becoming thoroughly bad. Lord Edmund Talbot is not only a great noble, but a gentleman, and is deservedly popular in Parliament. He holds the foremost place among the Roman Catholic laity of England. Whether this qualification will recommend him as strongly to the Irish people as the Government seem to expect is an open question, but, as he will scarcely have accepted the appointment without some assurance that the system of administration, which has marked the later years of Lord French's Viceroyalty, will hardly be maintained in all its unintelligent rigour, he may enter upon his extremely important office under favourable auspices. The Irish problem cannot be solved by any change of persons, unless there be a change of policy. Indeed, the comparative insignificance of the extensive shuffle and deal which the Government announces lies in the circumstance that it contains no clear indication of policy. It is a whirl of persons effected apparently without intelligible method or plan.

THE MINISTERIAL CHANGES.

The Parliamentary Correspondent of The Times writes:—The reconstruction of the Government announced to-day is the most extensive that Mr. Lloyd George has undertaken since the General Election. If the long list of appointments is closely examined, it will be seen that it is little more than the old game of "General Post." Advantage has been taken of Mr. Bonar Law's departure and of one or two resignations to give half the Ministry a step up. The most notable resignation is that of Lord French, who has been Lord Lieutenant of Ireland with three Chief Secretaries at a most critical time. Mr. Illingworth has ceased to be Postmaster-General, it is understood, on account of ill-health. It is ironical that his resignation should be announced on the very day on which his unpopular telephone tariff came into operation. Sir James Craig leaves the Admiralty to take up his new political post as leader of the Ulster Unionists in the first Parliament of Northern Ireland. The most extraordinary thing about the new appointments to the experienced Parliamentarian is the clean sweep which the Prime Minister has made in the Government Whips' Office. Lord Edmund Talbot, the most popular Chief for a generation, succeeds Lord French at the Viceregal Lodge. This appointment is historic in one sense, as he is the first Roman Catholic, albeit an English one, to be appointed Viceroy of Ireland. This has been made possible by the passing of the Home Rule Act, which repeals the old law confining the office to Protestants. Lord Edmund Talbot's Liberal colleague, Captain Guest, becomes Minister of Air. Although Captain Guest and Mr. Churchill have always been close personal and political friends, it is to be presumed that this appointment means the re-establishment of the Air Ministry as an independent Department. The new Chief Whips are Colonel Leslie Wilson for the Unionists and Mr. McCurdy for the Liberals. Neither has had any previous experience of the Whips' Office, and while Colonel Wilson is popular with everybody, Mr. McCurdy has few attributes of a Chief Whip. Both have just had to give up posts in the Ministries which came to an end on March 31. At the same time, most of the Junior Whips have been given promotion to Under Secretaryships. Among the other changes, few tears will be shed for the disappearance of Dr. Addison from the Ministry of Health. He made a similar involuntary withdrawal from the Ministry of Munitions towards the end of the war. The puzzle is why a Minister, with so many failures to his credit, should be comfortably settled again in office as Minister without portfolio. There ought to be no Minister without portfolio at this time of day. Sir Alfred Mond, however, does not inspire much confidence as his successor at the Ministry of Health, and Mr. Kellaway's qualifications for the Post Office are not very obvious. Lord Crawford's interest in art should make him a more acceptable First Commissioner of Works than some recent holders of that office. The two big Cabinet appointments, those of Sir Robert Horne, as Chancellor of the Exchequer, and of Mr. Baldwin, as President of the Board of Trade, were fully expected. There has been only one precedent for a member of the House of Commons becoming Chancellor of the Exchequer before he has been three years in Parliament, and that is the august one of the younger Pitt. The appointments are very disappointing in one respect. Hardly any new blood is introduced into the Ministry. The appointments of Mr. Hilton Young and of Mr. Edward Wood as Under Secretary for the Colonies are, however, excellent. Both are young men of great promise, and each represents the highest traditions of his party. The most curious announcement of all is that Mr. James Hope is to be proposed as Chairman of Committees. This can only mean that Mr. Whitley has definitely resigned that position, and that the Prime Minister now takes it for granted that Mr. Whitley will be elected Speaker in succession to Mr. Lowther.

THE COAL CONFLICT.

The Times, in a leading article on the miners' strike, says:—A visitor from some other sphere who chanced to be studying our national customs would have been deeply impressed by the thorough manner in which the traditional festival of April 1st was celebrated yesterday. We have long enjoyed the reputation of taking things seriously, and All Fools' Day has been taken very seriously, indeed, by a considerable section of the community. Between them, the Government, the coal-owners, and the miners have brought to a stop the industry by which the two latter groups live, and on which the nation, of whose interests the Government are the appointed guardians, depends for its prosperity. The coal pits are all idle to-day, and some of them are said to be already undergoing the process of deterioration or destruction to which the pits are liable when left to themselves. Having brought about this monumental piece of folly, the acting characters are standing idly by and making no attempt to resume the part of rational beings. But presently they will wake up, and set about coming to an arrangement which will enable them to get on once more with the business of life. Sooner or later an arrangement will be made which might have been made from the first. Meanwhile the rest of the population, who have nothing to do with it, except look on and pay for the folly, are doing something to retrieve the national character for sanity. They are taking it very calmly.

THE STOCK EXCHANGE.

The Times says:—Although business in Stock Markets naturally remained very restricted yesterday in view of the Labour outlook, yet, on the whole, the tendency was remarkably steady. Apart from some further offering of Home Railway Stocks, there was again no evidence of any selling pressure, and the Gilt-Edged section closed firm in anticipation of the reinvestment of a portion of the large amount of dividend money just disbursed. Oil Shares were a shade steadier in the later dealings, following a dull opening.

Reuter's Agency understands from British and Japanese sources that rumours of developments in regard to the Anglo-Japanese Alliance are quite untrue. The question of renewal has not been raised by either Government, and nothing will be done until the meeting of the Dominions Conference this summer.

EX-EMPEROR KARL'S ADVENTURE.

A DANGEROUS POSITION.

ALLIES' STRONG NOTE TO HUNGARY.

THE HAPSBURGS BANNED.

On the proposal of M. Jules Cambon, acting under instructions from the French Government, under instructions from the French Government, says a Paris telegram, dated Friday, the Ambassadors' Conference to-day unanimously decided on the following declaration:—

"The events now taking place in Hungary compel the principal Allied Powers to remind the Hungarian people of the terms of their declaration of February 4, 1920. Faithful to the principles enunciated in that declaration, the Allies are bound to repeat that the restoration of the Hapsburgs would imperil the very foundation of peace, and that it could neither be recognised nor tolerated by them. The Allied Powers rely on the Hungarian Government, in full consciousness of the gravity of the situation which would be created by the return to the Throne of the former Sovereign of Hungary, to take effective steps to frustrate an attempt which, even if momentarily successful, could only have disastrous consequences for Hungary."

This declaration will be communicated to the Hungarian Delegation to the Peace Conference, telegraphed to Budapest, and then officially sent to the representatives of Austria, Jugo-Slavia, Czecho-Slovakia, Rumania, and Poland.

HUNGARIAN SEMI-OFFICIAL STATEMENT.

Telegraphing from Budapest on Thursday, Reuter's Correspondent says—The following semi-official statement is issued here to-day regarding the presence in Hungary of the ex-Emperor Karl:—

"King Karl IV. arrived unexpectedly at Stein-am-Anger on the 25th inst. at midnight and took up his residence in the Episcopal Palace. The Premier, Count Teleki, who was spending Easter with his family in the neighbourhood of Stein-am-Anger, was immediately apprised of the ex-Emperor's arrival, and he proceeded to Stein-am-Anger on the following morning, afterwards leaving for Budapest to inform the Regent of the event. In consequence, however, of a breakdown in Count Teleki's automobile, the King, who had also left for Budapest, arrived in the city in advance of the Premier, and had a long interview with the Regent, Admiral Horthy, before Count Teleki reached the city. The Regent explained to the King the situation in the country, and emphasised the fact that the interests of the country made it necessary for Karl to leave the country immediately. The King thereupon left the capital without speaking to anybody else. In order to find a solution of the grave situation which had arisen in consequence of the appearance of the King in Hungary, the Regent summoned to a conference the members of the Government and prominent statesmen who were at the moment in the city. This conference unanimously approved the measures taken by the Regent in the interests of the country, and a resolution was passed to this effect. It was also agreed to make representations to the foreign countries concerned to obtain free passage across their territory for the King. The King is still at Stein-am-Anger, where he is awaiting these guarantees, and the Premier, Count Teleki, is making himself personally responsible for his safe custody. It may be definitely stated that the visit of the King was entirely of a secret character. No Hungarian officials had been previously notified of his expected arrival, and whatever influences may have been exerted in the country to induce him to make his journey must have been of an irresponsible nature. Absolute calm prevails throughout Hungary."

THE VATICAN'S DENIAL.

In a message dated Rome, Friday, Reuter's Correspondent says—The Vatican organ, Osservatore Romano, to-day publishes a categorical denial of the recent rumours that the Vatican was aware of the intention of the ex-Emperor Karl to return to Hungary. Reports recently received from the Papal Nuncio at Vienna, adds the newspaper, were immediately communicated to the representatives of France and Great Britain, who were legitimately entitled to be kept advised.

SAFE CONDUCT.

According to information received in French official circles, the Czecho-Slovak representative in Budapest has been instructed to demand that the Hungarian Government shall compel the ex-Emperor Karl to leave Hungarian territory. In the event of the ex-Monarch's refusing to comply with this demand, the Prague Cabinet, in agreement with the Rumanian and the Jugo-Slav Governments, will immediately adopt the necessary measures, consisting, in the first instance, of a vigorous blockade of Hungary, coupled with a military demonstration on the Hungarian frontier, while, eventually, more rigorous steps may be taken.

Reuter's Agency learns that the Austrian Government has agreed to the request of the Allies and the Hungarian Government, to grant a safe conduct to the ex-Emperor Karl to return through Austria to Switzerland.

ANXIETY AND REASSURANCE.

A message from Budapest to Vienna, dated Thursday, says that the ex-Monarch will shortly leave Hungary, and that the position is reassuring. A severe Press censorship is being exercised. In Austrian political circles the situation is regarded seriously. Unless ex-King Karl leaves soon, dangerous complications may ensue. It is declared that negotiations are proceeding for offering the throne to him, on condition that he agrees to be King of Hungary only. He is waiting for Friday's meeting of the National Assembly, hoping that a summons may be issued to this effect. The Austrian Social Democrats profess alarm.

A Vienna telegram, dated Thursday, states:—The Hungarian Chargé d'Affaires in Vienna has notified the Austrian Government that ex-Emperor Karl will return to Switzerland. The Swiss Minister, M. Bourcarol, also declares that Switzerland agrees to the return of the ex-Emperor.

The Czecho-Slovak Government, says a Prague telegram, has lodged a strong protest in Budapest against the continued presence of the ex-Emperor Charles in Hungary.

According to a Berne telegram, the Hungarian Government, having requested Switzerland to allow the ex-Emperor to return to the territory of the Helvetian Republic, the Federal Council has replied that it would not oppose his return, but has intimated that the decision was merely provisional, and would depend on what eventual course affairs might take in the sequel.

Reuter's Paris Correspondent, telegraphing on Thursday, says:—According to Press despatches from Vienna, the town of Stein am Anger is surrounded by Hungarian troops. The Legitimist Army is said to be moving forward. It is reported that the Jugo-Slav Government has decided, in the event of the restoration of King Karl, to annex the district of Pecs and to occupy the town of Szegdin with troops.

Prince Ghika, Rumanian Minister in Paris, yesterday paid a visit to M. Berthelot, Secretary-General of the Ministry of Foreign Affairs, and notified him that the Rumanian Government had decided resolutely to oppose the restoration of Karl, the Ex-Emperor.

The Petit Parisien thinks that it is remarkable that amongst the Hungarian agents who are busily working for the ex-King Karl are certain persons who appear to serve as a link between General Ludendorf and Admiral Horthy. It adds that it is evident that the restoration of Karl would have a repercussion in Germany.

The Petit Journal declares that if the ex-Monarch persists in his adventure, he will draw upon his country a terrible catastrophe. The journal does not believe that the attempt will be a success, in view of the unanimity of the Allies and the attitude adopted by France, which, it says, is perfectly clear, and allows of no ambiguity.

KARL'S PROGRESS.

A Budapest telegram to the Fridburger Nachrichten says:—Admiral Horthy, the Hungarian Chief of State, has handed over his authority to ex-King Karl. Several garrisons have acclaimed the ex-Monarch. Various authorities and troops are on their way to Budapest. They have been joined by an enthusiastic population, bearing the portrait of the ex-King at their head. Count Andrassy, who has been appointed Premier, has addressed an ultimatum to Budapest.

No confirmation has been received at the Foreign Office here (says a Rome message) regarding the march of the ex-Emperor Karl towards Budapest at the head of Hungarian troops. The latest reports state that calm prevails in the town of Stein am Anger, except among a portion of troops. It has been arranged that the ex-Emperor should be conducted to Kommond Castle, the residence of Prince Bathyany, which is some distance from the camp. Count Teleki is remaining with the ex-Emperor, for whom a safe conduct is being demanded from the Austrian Government.

PASSPORTS FOR FRANCE.

In a recent issue of the Irish Times there appeared a notice specifying new regulations to come into force after yesterday with reference to the issue of passports for France. The last paragraph in it stated that residents in Ireland wishing to obtain visas for France should apply to the French Consulate, 32 St. Stephen's Green, and that "photographs are no longer required." The sentence quoted has given rise to some misapprehension in the minds of intending visitors to France. Since the notice appeared, applicants for passports have called at the Dublin Metropolitan Police Office without having their photographs in duplicate. It should be explained that these photographs are absolutely necessary in order to obtain the passports. In regard to the French Consulate, however, it is now no longer requisite to lodge a photograph there when a visa is required. The practice formerly in vogue has now been discontinued.

NEW VICEROY OF IRELAND.

LORD EDMUND TALBOT APPOINTED.

OFFICIAL STATEMENT.

FIRST ROMAN CATHOLIC TO HOLD THE OFFICE.

It is officially announced that His Majesty the King has approved the following appointment:—

"The Right Hon. Lord Edmund Talbot will succeed Field-Marshal Viscount French as first Viceroy of Ireland under the Government of Ireland Act, 1920."

Under the Act, commonly called the Home Rule Act, there must be a new appointment of Lord Lieutenant, whose first great function will be to summon the two Parliaments of Southern and Northern Ireland respectively. As the elections will be in May, the new holder of this office will take up his duties about the first of that month, and order the issue of the writ.

The appointment of Lord Edmund Talbot is an historical event, as he is the leading lay Roman Catholic in the United Kingdom, and the first Roman Catholic to be Lord Lieutenant of Ireland.

LORD EDMUND TALBOT'S CAREER.

The Right Hon. Lord Edmund Bernard Talbot, P.C., G.C.V.O., M.V.O., D.S.O., M.P., is a son of the 14th Duke of Norfolk, and uncle and heir-presumptive of the present Duke. He was born in 1855, and educated at the Oratory School, Edgbaston, Birmingham. In 1876 he assumed by Royal licence the surname of Talbot in lieu of that of Howard, in compliance with the will of the 17th Earl of Shrewsbury. He married Lady Mary Caroline Bertie, daughter of the 7th Earl of Abingdon, in 1877, by whom he has one son and one daughter. Lord Edmund Talbot originally adopted a military career. He was gazetted to the 11th Hussars in 1875, became Captain and Adjutant in 1881, Major in 1891, and Lieutenant-Colonel Commanding in 1900, when he retired. He served, however, in the South African war as Deputy Assistant Adjutant-General, and was made a member of the Distinguished Service Order.

Lord Edmund Talbot contested the Burnley Division in 1880 and the Burnside Division of Sheffield in 1883 and 1886. He was elected member for the Chichester (Sussex) Division (in which Arundel Castle, a seat of the Duke of Norfolk is situated) in 1894 in the Unionist interest, and has represented that constituency ever since. From 1896 to 1900 Lord Talbot was private secretary to the Hon. St. John Brodrick when the latter was Under Secretary for Foreign Affairs; he became a Lord of the Treasury in 1905, and has been Joint Parliamentary Secretary to the Treasury since 1915. He was appointed Deputy Earl Marshal in 1917 and made a Privy Councillor in the following year.

Lord Edmund Talbot has gained a wide popularity for the tact he has displayed as Chief Parliamentary Whip to the Unionist Party, a post he has occupied since 1913.

HOME RULE ACT.

THE APPOINTED DAY.

NEW ORDERS IN COUNCIL.

MAKING THE MEASURE OPERATIVE.

The London Gazette last night contained the text of two Orders in Council, dated Buckingham Palace, March 24.

The first deals with the appointed day, and states that, whereas it is provided by the Government of Ireland Act, 1920 (hereinafter referred to as the Act), that the Act shall, except as expressly provided, come into operation on the appointed day, and that the appointed day for the purposes of the Act shall be the first Tuesday in the eighth month after the month of December, 1920 (being the month in which the Act was passed), or such other day not more than seven months earlier or later, as may be fixed by Order of His Majesty in Council, either generally or with reference to any particular provision of the Act, and that different days may be appointed for different purposes and different provisions of the Act;

Now, therefore, His Majesty is pleased, by and with the advice of his Privy Council, to order, and it is hereby ordered, as follows:—

The nineteenth day of April, 1921, is hereby fixed to be the appointed day for the purposes of the provisions of the Act relative to the making of Orders in Council and to the qualification and term of office of the Lord Lieutenant, and the third day of May, 1921, is hereby fixed to be the appointed day for the purposes of the remaining provisions of the Act, except provisions relative to the following matters or consequential upon such provisions, namely:—

(1) The transfer of services or officers from the Government of the United Kingdom, including in this exception police forces and officers, but excluding therefrom the establishment of the Civil Service Committee and the functions of such Committee so far as they are exercisable prior to such transfer.

(2) Financial matters, including in this exception powers of taxation, but excluding therefrom the establishment of the Consolidated Funds and Exchequers and the appointment of Comptrollers and Auditors-General of Southern Ireland and of Northern Ireland, the establishment of the Joint Exchequer Board, and temporary provision as to payments into and out of the said Exchequers.

(3) The legislative powers of the Council of Ireland.

(4) Matters relating to the Supreme Court of Judicature in Ireland or the Supreme Court of Southern Ireland or of Northern Ireland, or the High Court of Appeal for Ireland, or the judges or officers thereof, or County Court Judges, including in this exception the offices of Lord Chancellor of Ireland and Master of the Rolls in Ireland, but excluding therefrom appointments to the office of Lord Chief Justice of Northern Ireland, and.

(5) The representation of Ireland in the House of Commons of the United Kingdom.

Provided that nothing in this Order shall be construed as fixing the appointed day mentioned in Section 57, 58, 59, or 66, or in Paragraph (E), (F) or (J) of Section 69 of the Act, or in the seventh or eighth schedule to the Act, or as fixing the appointed day for the purpose of the definition of the expression "existing" in its application to officers or to any other matter hereinbefore excepted.

THE SECOND ORDER.

The second deals with special constables, and states that, whereas by the Special Constables Act, 1914, as applying to Ireland, power is conferred on His Majesty to make regulations with respect to the appointment and position of special constables appointed during the present war under the Special Constables (Ireland) Act, 1832, or under Section 14 of the Dublin Justices Act, 1824, and by those regulations to make such provisions as are in the said Act mentioned.

And whereas by an Order in Council, dated the 11th day of March, 1915 (therein and hereinafter referred to as the Special Constables (Ireland) Order, 1915), His Majesty was pleased to make such regulations with respect to special constables in Ireland (hereinafter referred to as the Principal Regulations).

And whereas it is expedient to amend the principal regulations in manner hereinafter appearing.

Now, therefore, His Majesty is pleased, by and with the advice of his Privy Council, to order, and it is hereby ordered, as follows:—

(1) The provisions of Sections 19, 20, and 21 of the Constabulary (Ireland) Act, 1836, shall apply to all special constables appointed under the Special Constables (Ireland) Act, 1832, after the date of this Order, for whole-time service in like manner as they apply to members of the Royal Irish Constabulary.

(2) In any county adjoining a county for which a special constable is appointed, he shall have all the like powers, privileges, and duties which he has in a county for which he is appointed.

(3) Paragraphs 1 and 2 of this Order shall have effect as if they were added to the principal regulations, and may be cited as Regulation 10 and Regulation 11 thereof, respectively.

(4) This Order shall extend to Ireland only, and may be cited as the Special Constables (Ireland) Order, 1921.

REPARATIONS.

ALLIES AND THE CUSTOMS BARRIER.

The Ambassadors' Conference to-day, says a Paris message of Friday's date, considered the question of the Customs barrier between occupied and unoccupied Germany, and instructed the British and French High Commissioners now in Paris, with the assistance of Italian and Belgian technical experts, to submit to-morrow proposals, having regard to the detailed observations presented by certain Governments. The experts met at once. In view of the economic situation of Austria, the Austrian section of the Reparations Commission will be transferred to Paris on the 30th inst. A very small staff will be retained in Vienna.

GERMANY SEEKING A SOLUTION.

A telegram from Berlin on Thursday states:—Since the break up of the London Conference the German Government has been exploring various paths to a solution of the reparation problem, and has approached the American Government, declaring a desire to make reparation to the full extent of its power, even to that of considering the taking over of some portion of the Allied indebtedness to America.

CABINET CHANGES.

SIR ROBERT HORNE AS CHANCELLOR.

OTHER APPOINTMENTS.

The following official announcement of Cabinet changes was issued last night from Downing street, London:—

The Rt. Hon. Sir Robert S. Horne, G.B.E., K.C., M.P., to be Chancellor of the Exchequer.

The Rt. Hon. Christopher Addison, M.D., M.P., to be Minister without portfolio—late Minister of Health.

The following statement was made by General Headquarters yesterday:—

The date of the alteration coincides with the beginning of "summer time."

RENEWED SEARCHES IN DUBLIN.

MORE BOMBS FOUND.

Last night F Company of the Auxiliary Division, R.I.C., carried out a further search in the neighbourhood of Harcourt street, Dublin, and discovered in some stables off Montague street 30 bombs and many appliances for their manufacture, including wooden moulds for hand-grenades and trench mortar bombs, and a number of rough castings. A quantity of seditious literature was also seized.

A combined force of military and Auxiliary police carried out extensive searches in the Harcourt street area of Dublin again yesterday afternoon. They arrived at about 2.30, and were engaged for almost three hours. Guards were placed and machine guns mounted at each end of Harcourt street and the adjoining streets, including Cuffe street, Montague street, Wexford street, Camden street, and Kevin street. No civilians were allowed to enter or leave the invested area, but tramcars were permitted to pass through. The searches appear to have been carried out principally in the stables, in some of which two big hauls of arms, ammunition, and papers were made during the present week. Particular attention was paid to the stables at the rear of Church lane, and the forces were seen carrying away a kit bag which had been found in one of them. Four sacks full of stuff were also taken from a secondhand dealer's shop, but what they contained is not known. The Brick and Stonelayers' Hall, in Cuffe street, and a disused building alongside were among the houses searched. While the search was in progress numbers of people remained outside the cordons awaiting their withdrawal, so that they might return to their homes.

BOMB ACCIDENTALLY EXPLODED.

TWO PERSONS DEAD: SEVERAL OTHERS INJURED.

Our Skibbereen Correspondent states that there has been a sensational sequel to the attack on the Roscarbery Police Barrack early on Thursday morning. Numbers of country people who had been attending a fair in the town were inspecting the ruined barrack when a boy picked up a bomb, which exploded and killed outright a farmer named Patrick Collins, aged 60, of Derryduv, and wounded several other persons, including Terence Wilson, of Derry, aged 26; Fred. Calnan, publican; Miss O'Brien, Barley Hill; J. Helton, Glandore, and J. Sullivan, of Carrigroe, two of whose sons are in internment camps. Mr. Wilson died in the course of a couple of hours, and Mr. Calnan and Miss O'Brien had to be removed to an hospital in Cork.

RAIDS FOR DOG LICENCE MONEY.

The offices of Petty Sessions Clerks have been raided at Arthurstown, Co. Wexford; Woodford, County Galway; Castlecomer, County Kilkenny; Dromohair, County Leitrim; Carrickmacross, County Monaghan; Johnstown, County Kilkenny; Emyvale, County Monaghan; Drumkeeran, County Leitrim; Cliffony, County Sligo, and the money paid for the dog licences, ranging in amount from £11 to £100 has been carried off by the raiders.

Mr. Lang, the Petty Sessions Clerk of Carrickmacross, was "held up" on Thursday night at 8 o'clock, when he was leaving the Courthouse with the day's takings from the dog licence. All the money was taken away, considerably over £100. His son, Mr. Lang's only companion at the time, states that the men numbered six and were armed and disguised. No trace of the money has been found since. Two young men named James Gaffney and J. Jeff, living in an adjoining Courthouse, were immediately arrested. No charge has been preferred against them. It was a market evening and the streets were very thronged at the time.

MAILS AND OLD AGE PENSIONS STOLEN.

The mail car from Claremorris to Ballinrobe was "held up" yesterday morning three miles from Hollymount by half a dozen masked and armed men, who ordered the driver away. In his absence they seized the mails and about £240 old age pension money.

TRANSFER OF COURTS OF QUARTER SESSIONS.

It is officially reported that the Lords Justices have made an order transferring Monaghan Quarter Sessions to Clones and Newtownbutler Quarter Sessions to Enniskillen, the Courthouses at Monaghan and Newtownbutler not being available.

THE STATE OF IRELAND.

THE AMERICAN REPORT.

"BIASSED AND WHOLLY MISLEADING."

BRITISH EMBASSY'S STATEMENT.

The British Embassy, says a Washington telegram dated Thursday, has issued a statement here which characterises as "biassed and wholly misleading" the conclusions of the unofficial Commission of the "Committee of One Hundred," appointed at the instance of the newspaper, The Nation, to investigate conditions in Ireland. While admitting that the Crown forces, under incredible provocation, may have on some occasions broken the bonds of discipline and committed unjustifiable acts of violence, the statement emphasises that it is absolutely false to say that such acts are encouraged or condoned in any way by the British Government. The interests which suffer the most by such acts of indiscipline are those of the Government itself. The statement points out that Ireland, so far from being a devastated country, is the most prosperous part of the United Kingdom, as evidenced by the returns of the bank deposits, which rose from £147,000,000 in 1914 to £200,000,000 in 1920. "The Committee's report," adds the Embassy, "lays stress on the so-called reprisals, but ignores the fact that before even Irish propaganda had suggested, in September, 1920, that reprisals were taking place, 127 policemen, soldiers, and civilians had been murdered in cold blood, and 289 had been wounded. Sinn Fein has established its position by the terror of the revolver, which has silenced the moderate opinion of the vast majority of Irishmen. The methods of the Irish Republican Army are those of assassins. Their deadly work is done by stealth, by persons in the garb of civilians, who move about under the protection of the law, until the moment comes for attack, and immediately thereafter resume the aspect and demeanour of peaceful citizens." Continuing, the Embassy denies that there has been indiscriminate killing. Men have been shot, it says, through failing to halt when challenged by sentries, while innocent persons, including women and children, have suffered death or wounds only in the course of armed conflicts resulting from unprovoked attacks by Sinn Feiners in crowded streets upon the forces of the Crown. Apart from these and similar inadvertent casualties, the record of the Crown forces is absolutely clear, as far as women and children are concerned. The reports of the torturing of prisoners have been entirely disproved. The statement, in conclusion, points out that the votes polled by the Sinn Fein or Republican Party at the General Election in 1918 represented, despite the widespread intimidation, less than half a million out of the electorate of two millions.

ATTEMPT TO MURDER EX-SOLDIER IN CORK.

ARMED ATTACKERS' CALLOUS CONDUCT.

Within the past few weeks no less than ten attempts to kill ex-soldiers in Cork have been made by armed men. They were all successful, with the exception of the shooting which took place in Fitzgerald Park at one o'clock yesterday. John Goulding, an ex-soldier, residing off Barrack street, who served through the war, was sitting near the river reading a newspaper; when armed civilians approached, and one of them emptied his five-chamber revolver, wounding Goulding in the head and neck. His assailants ran up to where he was, and pocketing their revolvers lifted him, it is alleged, from the riverside path over a wire fencing, and threw him into the river, which was broad and deep. Goulding swam feebly towards the opposite bank, but soon was observed to be in difficulty by Mr. Michael Halloran, the steward of the Sunday's Well Boat Club, who at once went to his assistance in a punt, and landed him at the other side in a dazed and weak condition. Goulding was conveyed to Shandon Constabulary Barrack, from where he was later taken to Cork Military Hospital, where he lies in a serious condition.

At the scene of the shooting the police found five empty revolver cartridge cases. No motive can be assigned for the crime.

The outward mail train was "held up" by armed men at Upton yesterday morning. All the mails were removed to the waiting-room and examined, and returned some hours later.

CHARGES AGAINST EX-DISTRICT INSPECTOR.

EVIDENCE IN CORK COURT-MARTIAL.

At a field general courtmartial in Cork yesterday A. G. Earle, civilian, Mallow, was charged with having on the 26th January, at Booltean, Kerry, stolen twelve yards of white silk while in charge of a search party of the Auxiliary Division R.I.C., and also with having on the same date and place improperly authorised a temporary Cadet to remove certain articles of bed clothing.

The evidence for the prosecution was that an Auxiliary officer saw on a date in February a bundle of silk, which was identified by the owner, on the officers' mess table in the barracks, and when he asked whose it was there was no answer.

A cadet stated that he saw two pictures in the motor car when returning from a search.

The accused's servant said that he was asked to pack his suit case previous to his departure from Dublin, and did so. One of the things that he put in was a bundle wrapped up in a newspaper, which he got in the accused's kit bag. The latter, when in Dublin, wrote stating that the newspaper parcel did not belong to him.

The defence was a complete denial of the charge, and the accused, who said that he had been an Intelligence Officer and a District Inspector of the R.I.C., from which he resigned, suggested that the man who stole the roll of silk placed it in his trunk and took it out again.

The Court found the accused not guilty of the second charge, and sentence in the first charge will be duly promulgated.

MAIL TRAIN ROBBED.

The Waterford to Tramore mail train, leaving Waterford at 8.30 a.m., was "held up" yesterday morning by armed men, with blackened faces, and two mail bags were taken. A party of eight men appeared on the railway at Ballykinsella cutting, midway between Waterford and Tramore, and waved a large red flag. Driver Alcock slowed up, and revolvers were presented at him, and he was ordered to stop the train. The passengers were searched, and the guard's van was entered, and two mail bags containing letters for Tramore and the district were taken. The bags contained no official letters.

CORK TRAIN RAIDED.

Our Bandon Correspondent states that when the mail train which leaves Cork for West Cork at 4.30 a.m. reached Waterfall Station yesterday morning it was boarded by armed men, who carried out a raid on the mails. The train arrived at Bandon six minutes late, and the letters were found strewn about the van. The railwaymen helped to collect the letters for Bandon while the train was waiting.

SPORTING AMMUNITION.

DUBLIN MAN FINED.

James Murphy, 71 Parnell street, Dublin, pleaded guilty before a Field General Court-martial in the North Dublin Union yesterday to a charge of keeping twenty rounds of sporting ammunition, and was fined £1. It appeared that the ammunition was found in a room which previously had been occupied by the accused in Peamount Sanatorium. He had been using a shot-gun belonging to the Sanatorium, which had been given to the authorities. The accused had no connection with any illegal organisation, and had always been a law-abiding citizen. He had forgotten about the ammunition which was found.

The fine, the Court announced, should be paid within a specified date, and in default of payment the accused should be sentenced to 14 days' imprisonment.

RELEASE OF MR. J. J. O'KELLY.

Mr. J. J. O'Kelly, President of the Gaelic League, has been released, after a detention of three weeks in Marlborough Hall, North Dublin Union, and Arbour Hill Barracks.

ILLEGAL POSSESSION OF A SHOT-GUN.

Joseph Coyne, farmer, Claddagh, Co. Galway, was tried by Court-martial at Renmore yesterday with being in possession of one single-barrelled muzzle-loading shot-gun, not under effective military control. Accused pleaded "Not guilty," and said that the gun belonged to his son, who had been in Australia for the past year. He had a son in an English cavalry regiment who was at home on vacation at present.

Accused was fined 10s. or, in default of payment, seven days' imprisonment. Accused was then released.

MURDER IN COUNTY WEXFORD.

PETTY SESSIONS CLERK SHOT.

MAYO ARTISAN KILLED.

It is officially reported that Mr. Lee, Clerk of Petty Sessions at Killagowan, Co. Wexford, was visited on Thursday night, between nine and ten o'clock, by armed and masked men, by whom he was dangerously wounded, and died yesterday morning.

Our Enniscorthy Correspondent telegraphing yesterday says:—A shocking occurrence took place at Oulart, Co. Wexford, last night, when a party of five or six armed and masked men entered the residence of Mr. O. R. Lee, Petty Sessions Clerk, and demanded the dog licence money in his possession.

It is stated that Mr. Lee refused to hand up the money, and was then fired at. He was dangerously wounded, and died to-day. He was twentynine years of age, and unmarried. He was a well-to-do Protestant farmer, and resided with his father, whom he succeeded as Petty Sessions Clerk about five years ago. There is great military and police activity in the district to-day.

MURDER IN MAYO.

ARTISAN TAKEN FROM HIS HOME AND SHOT.

Our Claremorris Correspondent, telegraphing last night, says:—A young artisan named Coen was taken from his home at Johnstown, Ballyhaunis, this morning at 3 o'clock to an adjacent hillside, where he was shot dead.

ATTEMPTED MURDER.

FARMER TAKEN OUT AND SHOT.

It is officially announced that a farmer named Patrick Gorman, Tipperary district, was taken from his home by armed men at ten o'clock on the night of the 30th, and that an attempt was made to murder him on the road side at Emly. He received three revolver wounds and one gunshot wound. He is still alive.

THE LEITRIM MURDER.

AN ARREST.

It is officially reported that William Latimer, a farmer, of Donevrock, Mohill, Co. Leitrim, was murdered at his home at ten o'clock on Thursday night by about twenty members of the I.R.A., who took him into a field, where he was found riddled with bullets and his head battered in with some sharp instrument. His house was subsequently wrecked with rifle and bomb fire, and one unexploded bomb was picked up by the police. Latimer, it is stated, was suspected of having been in communication with the police. One arrest has been made.

THE WAR ON THE POLICE.

CONSTABLE SHOT DEAD.

A report, issued from Dublin Castle, states that Constable Stanley L. Moore was shot dead by armed and unknown men in the main street of Miltown Malbay, Co. Clare, at ten o'clock on Thursday night.

Our Ennis Correspondent states that several of the residents of Miltown Malbay have gone to Ennis fearing reprisals for the murder of the constable there on Thursday night. There is wild alarm in the locality. A second policeman is said to have been badly wounded.

AMBUSH IN MEATH.

CONSTABLE SERIOUSLY INJURED

Dublin Castle issued the following statement last night:—At about 3.30 p.m. to-day a party of seven Royal Irish Constabulary policemen belonging to Kells, County Meath, were travelling in a motor tender when they were ambushed at Sylvan Park by about 150 armed men, who had taken up positions behind a stone wall which they had loop-holed.

The ambush extended for 300 yards. Constable Fox, R.I.C., was seriously wounded. None of the other police was injured.

The police returned the fire, but with what result is not known.

CONSTABLE BADLY WOUNDED.

It is officially stated that Constable Griffin, of Ballyporeen, County Tipperary, was found at half-past four o'clock on Thursday afternoon two miles from Mitchelstown on the Ballyporeen road badly injured about the head, and in a very weak condition. He stated that he had been shot twice while returning to his station from Mitchelstown. He was in plain clothes at the time. He was removed to Fermoy Military Hospital.

Our Cahir Correspondent states that Constable Griffin, Cahir, left his station to visit a dentist in Mitchelstown. He was found on the roadside, suffering from bullet wounds in the head, and was subsequently removed to the Fermoy Military Hospital in a critical condition. He is unmarried, and has only a few years' service.

BOMBS THROWN AT A POLICE PATROL.

Three bombs were thrown at a police patrol at Clare Castle, County Clare, on Thursday, but none of them took effect.

ATTACKS ON POLICE BARRACKS.

BOMB EXPLODED AT DUNMANWAY.

An official report states that shortly after 10 p.m. on Thursday a loud explosion occurred in the backyard of Dunmanway Police Barrack, County Cork, followed for about ten minutes by rifle fire. Only one bullet entered the barrack, from the window of which the police returned the fire, and a number of civilians were seen running away. There were no police casualties. It is not known whether the attackers suffered any casualties. An examination of the place later resulted in discovering where the bomb was exploded in the back yard.

NEW ROSS BARRACK ATTACKED.

It is authoritatively stated that New Ross, County Wexford, police barrack was attacked on Thursday night, that the attack lasted about twenty minutes, that the police replied with machine gun and rifle fire, and that they suffered no casualties.

THE ROSCARBERY BARRACK FIGHT.

An official report states that nine constables were wounded during the recent fight at Roscarbery Police Barrack, and that they are doing well, with the exception of Constables Doyle, Kinsella, and Harkin, whose cases are regarded as serious.

Our Skibbereen Correspondent states that inquiries made on the spot yesterday go to show that the casualties in connection with the attack on Roscarbery Police Barrack in the small hours of Thursday morning, though serious, were not as heavy as at first reported. The number of attackers reached 300. Sergeant Ambrose O'Shea, aged about 40 years, and a young policeman named Bowles were the only members of the garrison who lost their lives; the remainder made their escape with more or less severe wounds as soon as the barrack was seen to be in flames. Constable Kinsella, however, was so seriously wounded that he died on his way to the Military Hospital in Cork. A hand grenade thrown through a window caused a terrific explosion, and set fire to the building, the concussion causing the ceiling of the room from which Sergeant O'Shea and Constable Bowles were firing on the attackers to fall, burying them. Their bodies have not yet been recovered from the débris. The houses of Patrick Mahony and Mrs. Ellen Crowley, opposite the barrack, had the roofs blown away by the force of the explosion. The roofs of Daniel and John Regan's houses were also damaged. Several of the villagers were thrown out of bed by the concussion. The fight lasted from 1.30 till 4 a.m., the garrison only surrendering when further resistance was plainly useless.

IN SEARCH OF POLICE LETTERS.

Five men, carrying revolvers and wearing mufflers across their faces, entered Wexford Post Office on Thursday morning and, according to an official report, held up the staff, saying that they were in search of letters for the Royal Irish Constabulary.

TWO CLERGYMEN ARRESTED.

Our Ennis Correspondent telegraphed yesterday:—The Rev. J. Gaynor, C.C., and the Rev. [illegible] McKenna, C.C., both of Mullagh, West Clare, [illegible] to-day. The first-named is Chairman of the Clare Asylum Committee of Management. The two clergymen were taken to Ennis [illegible].

THE COAL CRISIS.

AN ALMOST COMPLETE STOPPAGE.

GOVERNMENT AND RACING.

PARLIAMENT SUMMONED.

THE KING'S PROCLAMATION

Reports from the various coalfields throughout the United Kingdom received yesterday indicate that the stoppage in the coal industry is almost complete. In many cases the maintenance and pump staffs are remaining at their posts; while in the majority of cases where enginemen have been withdrawn safety work is being carried on by colliery officials.

There were no unexpected developments in the situation yesterday, and the members of the Coal Owners' Association who had remained in London left during the afternoon for the provinces, no further negotiations having taken place.

THE RAILWAYS.

Owing to the necessity for conserving coal supplies, the passenger train services in Great Britain will be reduced 20 to 25 per cent., commencing on Wednesday next. In every case the railway companies will endeavour to cancel those trains which will cause the least inconvenience to the public.

WARWICK RACES CALLED OFF.

At the request of the Government racing will not take place at Warwick on Monday and Tuesday next.

Mr. Frank Hodges stated yesterday that the power to countermand the order to allow all notices to expire, regardless of occupation, was not vested in him. It was the decision of the Executive Committee, and was, therefore, the official policy of the Federation which must be observed, regardless of any offer made to "safety men."

THE SUMMONING OF PARLIAMENT.

Owing to the fact that the House of Lords stands adjourned to a period which "will not expire within five days," it has been necessary, following the Proclamation of Emergency, to issue a proclamation for the summoning of both Houses of Parliament. Its text is as follows:—

"By the King. A Proclamation. For the Summoning of Parliament.—GEORGE R.I.

"Whereas, on the 31st day of March last, we were pleased, by virtue of the powers conferred upon us by the Emergency Powers Act, 1920, to issue a Proclamation of Emergency. And whereas it is provided by the said Act that where a Proclamation of Emergency has been made, the occasion thereof shall forthwith be communicated to Parliament, and if Parliament is then separated by such adjournment or prorogation as will not expire within five days a proclamation shall be issued from the meeting of Parliament within five days, and Parliament shall accordingly meet and sit upon the day appointed by that proclamation, and shall continue to sit and act in like manner, as if it had stood adjourned or prorogued to the same day. And, whereas, the House of Lords stands adjourned to the twelfth day of April next, and the House of Commons stands adjourned to the fourth day of April next:

Now, therefore, we, in pursuance of the said Act, and all other powers enabling us in that behalf, by, and with the advice of, our Privy Council, hereby proclaim and give notice of our Royal intention and pleasure that our Parliament, notwithstanding that it now stands adjourned as aforesaid, shall assemble and be holden on the said fourth day of April next, and the Lords, Spiritual and Temporal, and the Knights, Citizens and Burgesses, and the Commissioners for Shires and Burghs of the House of Commons are hereby required and commanded to give their attendance accordingly at Westminster on the said forth day of April.

Given at our Court at Windsor Castle this first day of April, in the year of Our Lord, one thousand nine hundred and twenty-one, and in the eleventh year of our reign.

God Save the King.

POSITION IN THE MINES.

A grave position is reported at Glamorgan Colliery, Llwynypia, where, unless the pumping machinery is restarted, three pits will be ruined within two days. Reports from a number of other coalfields show that in several pits the water is rising, and at Old Hill, Staffordshire, the owners have made an urgent appeal to the Government for naval men to be sent down to continue the pumping operations.

In many districts the men have registered at the local exchanges for unemployment pay. No payments, however, are being made until test cases have been decided.

The South Wales Miners' Federation has no funds available for distribution as strike pay. The Yorkshire miners, it is reported, have only sufficient funds for one week's strike pay, and the miners, generally, are apathetic about the strike.

In West Yorkshire "safety men" remained at work yesterday. In South Yorkshire the pumpmen have declined to come out.

A Sheffield telegram states that the dispute will cost the Yorkshire Miners' Association about £80,000 a week, and the Association has only sufficient money to pay two weeks' unemployment pay. Anything after that will have to be raised on securities. The men are not anxious to continue the strike.

An exceedingly grave situation has arisen in South Staffordshire, where already four important collieries have been flooded, and will not, the owners state, be re-opened.

SOUTH WALES MINES.

Colliery enginemen in South Wales who belong to the Federation are abstaining from work, but men belonging to the Enginemen's Association are carrying on. So far the colliers have not taken their tools out of the mines, which suggests a general belief in the short duration of the stoppage. At Cardiff the coal business is suspended. The bunkering of vessels for foreign ports is stopped. Coal exports from Swansea and the Humber was stopped yesterday.

In London last night a serious view was taken of the position. In the near future orders will be issued dealing with bunkering, coastwise coal traffic, and the rationing of supplies.

It was learned last night that the Government has decided upon severe restrictions of coal consumption, in order to eke out the available stocks in preparation for a possible lengthy continuance of the strike. For domestic uses, the supplies, it is proposed, will be limited to a hundredweight. Industrial coal will be restricted by 50 per cent., and further supplies will only be secured under special permits issued by the local authorities. This 50 per cent. reduction will probably also apply to electricity, and gas and lighting will be restricted. An appeal is being made for volunteers to help in keeping the pumping machinery at work.

THE POSITION IN DUBLIN.

NO CAUSE FOR ALARM.

The stoppage by the coal miners of Great Britain has sent private consumers and manufacturers in something approaching a panic to their coal merchants in Dublin. That is what usually happens when the cutting short of supplies from the pits is threatened. A coal merchant in Dublin yesterday described that conduct as extremely foolish. There is, he said, a sufficient quantity of coal in the Dublin coal yards to last for at least a month, if people will only take the matter calmly. There will be enough for all reasonable people until the dispute between the miners and coal-owners has been settled, and he is confident that the dispute cannot be a prolonged one. People who have plenty of coal in stock at present are rushing to the coal merchants for further supplies, and the coal merchants are not giving them anything like the quantities they would have. The price has been raised by 4s. per ton, but our informant says that that increase has not been put on in the spirit of profiteering, but rather to check the demand for the present. If people act in a rational way, and be content with small supplies there will be enough coal to go round until the mines are again being operated, which, it is hoped, will not be long distant.

The number of steam colliers arriving at the Port of Dublin yesterday morning, and up to the afternoon, showed that somewhat less coal was available for discharge than on the previous day. Yesterday's supplies came from Birkenhead, Partington, Garston, and Maryport.

AUXILIARY CADET ACCIDENTALLY WOUNDED.

Through the accidental discharge of a rifle, a Cadet of the Auxiliary Division, Royal Irish Constabulary, was wounded at Dublin Castle yesterday morning. The bullet passed through his hand, and inflicted a wound in the head. The injured Cadet was removed to hospital in a military ambulance.

MR. OSMOND GRATTAN ESMONDE.

A Vancouver telegram, dated Friday, states:—Mr. Osmond Grattan Esmonde was allowed to land here yesterday on condition that he would proceed later to England. It is understood that the Canadian immigration authorities only questioned his right to land because he had been refused permission to land in Australia.

UNITED STATES AND IRELAND.

A Washington telegram, dated Thursday, states:—With reference to the report from Dublin, published in the New York World, that President Harding was interesting himself in the Irish situation, and obtaining information [illegible] hand, and that he might possibly ask Great Britain to send an Envoy (unattached) to any Irish political party to Washington is discredited by the State Department, where it is considered [illegible] impossible.

SPECIAL EXTRA.

EX-KING KARL'S ESCAPADE.

A telegram from Rome on Friday says—Count Sforza, Minister for Foreign Affairs, read in the Senate to-day the latest reports from Budapest, showing that there is complete agreement between the Italian, French, and British policies as to the necessity of compelling ex-King Karl to leave Hungary. Steps had been taken in Vienna, he said, to procure him a passport. The Italian Government would also authorise the ex-King's passage through Italy if he desired to proceed to Spain or elsewhere. Count Sforza added that Karl's escapade did not cause any surprise, for Italy had foreseen and guarded against this danger by concluding formal agreements with Jugo-Slavia, supplemented by cordial exchanges of views with Czecho-Slovakia. All in Hungary knew that neither Italy nor the neighbouring States would ever permit the restoration of ex-King Karl. Count Sforza concluded: This is the last occasion on which we shall honour this gentleman by referring to him in the Italian Parliament.

GREEK OFFENSIVE.

HARD FIGHTING IN ASIA MINOR.

TURKISH POSITIONS CARRIED.

An Athens telegram, dated Thursday, states that the following official communiqué for the 29th and 30th March is issued:—A section of the Eleventh Division of the Greek army, after having occupied the northern outlet of the Gueve Pass to the south of Ada Bazar, pushed on ten kilometres into the defile. Severe fighting took place throughout the operations. The northern section of the battle is continuing. On the left wing fighting took place, in the course of which the enemy, under cover of buildings, carried on the defence by machine-guns and hand-grenades. The Third Division has occupied the village of Aygin, as well as the crest of a neighbouring hill, which has been held by the division in spite of twenty-two counter-attacks of the enemy, which were repulsed at the point of the bayonet. A Turkish flag and several machine-guns fell into our hands. The Greek troops advanced over difficult ground, driving back, step by step, ever-growing Turkish forces. On the right wing there was artillery preparation on the morning of the 29th for the destruction of the strongest military works and barbed wire entanglements. At Kovalitso the enemy had brought up reinforcements to strengthen their position, but the Greek infantry attacked it and gradually gained ground, and before noon on the 30th they succeeded, after desperate fighting, in occupying the military works at this place.

THE PORTE'S PROTEST.

The Porte has protested against the Greek blockade of the coast of Asia Minor, and has also solicited permission (says a Constantinople telegram) to mobilise the Turks at Constantinople, in view of the resumption of the Greek offensive. The Powers have rejected the application; nevertheless, numbers of Turkish officers are joining the Kemalists, and are on their way to Zounguldah.

THE JEWS' NATIONAL HOME.

MOSLEM FEARS.

MR. CHURCHILL'S ASSURANCE.

Reuter's Correspondent, telegraphing from Jerusalem on Thursday, says:—Mr. Churchill, replying to a Moslem delegation, said that he came to Cairo to investigate the Mesopotamia question. Sir Herbert Samuel, who had invited him to Palestine, was the responsible representative of the Crown, and he (Mr. Churchill) did not supersede him. Official instructions were always sent through the Cabinet. He thought that it was best to be plain and avoid misunderstandings. The deputation's address was, he considered, partly partisan and incorrect. It asked him to repudiate the Balfour declarations and stop immigration, but that was not in his power, and was not his wish. The British Government passed its word that it would view favourably the creation of a national home for the Jews. That involved immigration, and it had been ratified by the Allies. A promise was made when the war was in progress, and must be regarded as definitely established by victory.

Where else but in Palestine could Jews have a national home in which they might be reunited? The Arabs would not be supplanted, but would share in the benefits and progress of Zionism. The soundness of the Arab's civil and religious rights would be faithfully preserved.

The British position was one of trust, but conquest made it a position of right. The deputation's statements sounded as if the Moslems overthrew the Turks, but that was not so. Many British lives were sacrificed for Palestine. The establishment of a Jewish national home did not mean a Jewish Government to dominate the Arabs. Britain was the greatest Moslem State in the world.

APPEAL TO THE JEWS.

Replying to a Jewish deputation, Mr. Churchill said that there was no question of departing from the principles of the Balfour declaration, which were twofold—firstly, the establishment of a national home for Jews; and, secondly, the process to be without prejudice or unfairness to the Arab and Christian inhabitants, who together formed an overwhelming majority. Mr. Churchill proceeded:—"I am convinced the Zionist cause will bring good to the whole world, and will bring welfare and advancement to the Arabs of this country. I shall do my best to help my friend, Sir Herbert Samuel, to carry on the policy laid down by the British Government. The Arabs have expressed alarm at the Bolshevist character of some of the Jewish immigrants. Whatever we believe of this, your duty is to dispel these fears by a good and friendly attitude, and propagate peace between all. I fear my statement to the Moslem delegation was not agreeable to them. They now expect me to give you an agreeable statement, but my duty is to try to reassure both. You must do your best to give the Zionist cause a fair chance, and you must use patience and prudence and allay alarms. I earnestly hope your cause will be carried out to success. You have my warmest sympathies. I will lay your address before the British Cabinet, and will do my best to assist Sir Herbert Samuel in the task the British Government has given him."

TIDE OF EMIGRATION.

REMARKABLE FIGURES.

The tide of emigration from Ireland during the first three months of the present year has been of an abnormal character. Nothing like it, in fact, has been known for very many years. Should the present rate be maintained during the year—and there is every prospect at present that it will—it will be found that the total number of Irish people seeking their fortunes in other lands has had no parallel during the last twenty years.

America seems to be the Mecca of most Irish emigrants, and it is a remarkable fact that of the 3,000 odd persons who obtained passports for the United States, 80 per cent. are stated on good authority to be between the ages of 17 and 27 years. The Southern Provinces contribute a large proportion to the total.

DAIL EIREANN'S PROHIBITION.

When this point is considered in conjunction with the proclamation issued by "Dail Eireann" prohibiting the emigration of young men of "military age," it makes the situation all the more remarkable. "Dail Eireann," it is known, has given its sanction to a number of people anxious to leave this country, but these were cases where parties were going out to join their relatives in the States, who had provided their passage money. In the great majority of cases, however, no such sanction was asked or obtained, and the inference to be drawn is that the flight of so many young people from these shores is not due to economic reasons, but to a desire to gain a living in more peaceable and congenial surroundings.

COMPARATIVE FIGURES.

It would appear that over 2,000 passports have been issued to emigrants from Leinster and Connaught and been visé'd in Dublin during the last three months, as compared with 1,200 issued for the corresponding period in 1920. These passports represented respectively about 3,000 and 1,350 persons. The official returns for this year only deal with January and February, those for March being at present in the hands of the printers. In January, it is shown that these were 661 emigrants (365 males and 296 females), an increase of 329 (229 males and 100 females) over the figures for January, 1919. In February there was a total of 1,881 (916 males and 965 females), an increase of 1,512 (774 males and 738 females) over the figures for the corresponding month last year. These totals show a net increase of 1,841 persons over the numbers for the first two months of 1920. The emigrants from the various provinces during January and February numbered as follows:—Leinster: January, 87; February, 132. Munster: January, 282; February, 798. Ulster: January, 192; February, 409. Connaught: January, 100; February, 524.

The offices of the American Consul in Sackville street have been besieged by emigrants during the last three months, and as many as 300 have been attended to in one day. The shipping agents have also been kept extremely busy, and all bear testimony to the fact that the emigrants are mostly young people, all [illegible] for their journey.

THOUGHTS AND THEORIES.

A TRIP TO DENMARK.

THE GLORY OF GOING [illegible]

GARMENTS OF SPRING [illegible]

(BY C. H. B.)

TRAVELLER'S JOY.

The earliest intellectual pleasure [illegible] the human race was that of travel. It [illegible] an easy business in the prehistoric days [illegible] not an easy business now. But the [illegible] were always outweighed by the delights of adventure that went with them, [illegible] neolithic victim of the [illegible] chances of being embodied in the [illegible] by unsympathetic strangers with the [illegible] tude with which the modern traveller [illegible] the possibility of damp sheets, [illegible] and the insolence of the Continental [illegible] are apt to under-rate the extent to which primitive ancestors moved about the world. We are told that even in the early [illegible] Period—before Mycenae was [illegible] had already been worn by the feet of [illegible] between the Mediterranean and the Baltic. [illegible] the other hand, we who speed about [illegible] in express trains and on thirty-mile [illegible] steamships find it hard to reproduce what have been the attitude of, say, a gentleman [illegible] Richard Cœur de Leon's day towards a [illegible] to the Holy Land or of Marco Polo to a [illegible] to Cathay and C[illegible].

I go no further [illegible] because no [illegible] expedition [illegible] made their appearance since [illegible] The primeval forest and the hairy hippopotamus—or was it the woolly rhinoceros?—have disappeared and the natives were less, [illegible] a trifle less, quick on the trigger when [illegible] traveller heaved in sight, but otherwise [illegible] were much the same. A journey in those [illegible] was properly regarded as an event. One [illegible] one's will before starting, consulted the [illegible] or the local witch to discover if it was a propitious time to be going, laid in a stock of amulets, rabbits' feet, and other powerful antidotes of misfortune, donned one's second-best jerkin, seized staff, and off down the road on one's good legs or, if one was a person of importance, on a caracoling Percheron.

By the time when one had got as far as Canterbury almost anything might have happened. If one got through without an encounter with an enchantress or a band of robbers or a predatory landowner or some brutal soldiery or a particularly vicious wild boar, well, one was jolly lucky. As for getting to Palestine, the odds were frankly a hundred to one against. But think of the time it took! Of course, the affair was not looked upon as a mere going from one place to another. The possibility of settling down somewhere along the route with a fresh wife and a life appointment as jongleur-in-ordinary or second assistant filibuster to some local kinglet was always on the cards. In Marco Polo's day things were a little different. Travelling had become a recognised profession in Europe, and the people on whom Marco left the Doge's card—like the Cham of Tartary or the Emperor Jimmu—came of a travelling stock themselves.

I have always thought, however, that the traditions of British travel are a legacy from the days of the Roman occupation. In those happy days, when Britain was a smiling country studded with handsome villas, with hot and cold water laid on, and a lictor at every corner to direct the flow of traffic, the country gentleman ran across to Rome for the week-end as easily as the Kildare country gentleman slips across to London to listen to a speech by Mr. Devlin in the House of Commons. It took a bit longer, of course, but the road was macadamised all the way; the hotels catered for high-class travel, and the Imperial Trireme Company's fast service between Marseilles and Rome was the last word in comfort. After the Romans left we lost touch with [illegible] for a spell, but the Roman tradition [illegible] as far as travel is concerned.

For one thing, the Briton always sets forth firmly convinced [illegible] that he is going among barbarians, that [illegible] he passes beyond the pale of British [illegible] and British institutions almost anything may happen to him. I make bold to say that [illegible] a period running from about A.D. 1200 to the first half of the nineteenth century this assumption was tolerably correct. It is not correct to-day, as I have just discovered. A few days ago I crossed from Dublin to Holyhead on one of the new London and North-Western mail boats, the last word, so the [illegible] British will assure you—in size, speed and comfort. Yesterday I was on board the Royal Danish Mail Company's [illegible]. Really, it is quite a [illegible] assure me that [illegible] was quite a good sort and no relation to the Prussian Ambassador person. I liked the ship for several reasons. In the first place, it knows how to pick a fine, calm sea. Secondly, the ripe smell of bilge and [illegible] oil is absent. Perfect repasts round out the perfect day—repasts served with speed and elegance by a gentlemanly Danish waiter. There was another feature that pleased me. The stewardesses are not motherly dames dressed up as hospital nurses, and wearing a [illegible] sit-up-and-drink-some-of-this" expression, but bonny lasses dressed like waitresses in a café chantant. Whether they are also [illegible] as ministering angels when pain and anguish wring the brow of the female passenger I do not know, but just to look at—on a nice smooth day—they are all to the good.

I shall have a good deal to say about Danish food—when I have got into my stride and one of Copenhagen's smart tailors has let a "V"-shaped piece into the waist of my eating suit. For the moment more important matters concern me.

It appears that the war has produced the League of Nations, and that the purpose of the League of Nations is to make us all brothers—in misfortune or prosperity until war do us part. That being so, I think the first thing the highly-paid persons at Geneva or Brussels, or wherever it is, might do is to see that the nations treat one another's travellers in a more genial spirit. There was, of course, some reason for making it hard for me to leave Ireland for a few short weeks. Suspicion naturally alights upon anyone who prefers Trafalgar Square to the Devil's Punch Bowl or the Place de la Concorde to the place where there isn't any. I do maintain, however, that the Danes, who think a lot of their nice country and should be glad to have it visited by foreigners of discernment, should assume a more encouraging manner when approached for the necessary permit.

I did not mind the young gentleman at the Danish Consulate in London having a strong Oxford accent and a heavy fit of the gapes, and I only mildly resented paying three guineas for the privilege of giving Denmark the once over. What I objected to was having to fill in a form which clearly took the view that anybody who [illegible] to Denmark does so for the purpose of buying butter and bacon. I could not give the names of the "firms I proposed to do business with," nor had I a letter from the "firm I represented" explaining the kind of butter I proposed to buy. So when the bored young intellectual inquired languidly what I was going to Denmark for, I replied tartly that my newspaper had heard a report that the Danes were becoming neurotic from over-work and wanted me to find out if it was true.

After that things moved with some [illegible] celerity; but let me add one piece of advice. If you go to Denmark, do not take in luggage that you cannot carry in your hand. There are at the moment eighty thousand employed there, and seventy-nine thousand of these are porters. When you land at [illegible] with a trunk you first go three fast rounds with a Customs official, whom you finally pin down while he mutters an incantation which sounds like "Cigars? Tabac?" over your [illegible].

[illegible] COUNCIL.

[illegible] of the Belfast Corporation [illegible] of the Estimates Committee [illegible] Mr. W. F. Coates, D.L., [illegible] (Estimates Committee), explained that [illegible] would involve an additional [illegible] for the present year of [illegible] £13,267 would fall upon the [illegible] on the trading funds. The [illegible] connected with the bringing into [illegible] of the provisions of the Meals Act. [illegible] Mayor ruled him out of order, and [illegible] Baird continued to speak amid a growing [illegible] and shouts of "Chair, chair." "There [illegible] are shouting 'Chair, chair,'" exclaimed [illegible] Baird. "Your children are not hungry."

There was an uproar for a few minutes, in which the Councillor endeavoured to speak, but his words were inaudible. In the din the Lord Mayor said that he had ruled the motion out, there being no emergency.

SUMMONS UNDER "PROFITEERING" ACT.

BELFAST DEFENDANT FINED.

At Belfast Police Court yesterday, Robert C. [illegible], Nesik street, Belfast, was summoned in a case brought by the Board of Trade for refusing to produce books or documents containing entries relating to the purchase or sale of soda crystals, or offers for the purchase or sale thereof, for the purpose of investigation under the Profiteering Act, 1919.

Mr. J. Johnston, for the defendant, pleaded guilty, and a fine of £10 and 20s. costs was imposed.

CRIME IN IRELAND.

LAST WEEK'S HEAVY CASUALTIES.

The weekly review of Irish conditions issued from Dublin Castle states:—

The heavy casualties sustained by the Crown forces are again a prominent feature of the week's statistics of outrages. The total for the week is 46, one in excess of that for last week. Nineteen of these casualties (five killed and fourteen wounded) were sustained by the police, and twenty-seven (thirteen killed and fourteen wounded) by the military. Police casualties included the assassination in cold blood of a constable of the Royal Irish Constabulary, who was on sick leave at his home in Mullinahone, Co. Tipperary, on the 20th ult.

Sinn Fein assassinations of civilians reached the unprecedented total of nine for the week.

Outrage statistics to March 26 include the following items:—

Courthouses destroyed	74
Police Barracks destroyed	536
Police Barracks damaged	233
Raids for Arms	3,084
Policemen Killed	264
Policemen Wounded	406
Soldiers Killed	98
Soldiers Wounded	206

MILITARY INQUIRY.

THE TWELVE DEATHS AT CLONMULT.

A military court of inquiry, in lieu of an inquest, met at Cork to inquire into the deaths of Joseph Morrissey, William Ahearne, David Desmond, Richard Haggarty, James Ahearne, John Joseph Joyce, Daniel Dennehy, Jeremiah Ahearne, Michael Hallahan, Christopher O'Sullivan, James Glavin, and Michael Desmond, who were killed in the fight with troops at Clonmult on February 20th.

A military witness said that he was with a party of troops searching houses. It was decided to search a house near Clonmult, and the troops were divided into two parties, one party approaching the house from the south and the other from the west. Witness was with the southern party. As they drew near the house they heard shots and doubled forward. They found the other party lying along a bank about ten yards west of the house. Witness saw the bodies of two civilians who had tried to escape from the house. At this moment four civilians, two of whom were armed with service rifles and bayonets, ran from the house towards a barn. Fire was opened, and two of the running men fell dead. A party of the military was detached to watch the other side of the house, and desultory fire was carried on by both sides for about an hour and a quarter. A small party went to fetch reinforcements and bombs. They returned with a detachment of police, and the thatch of the house was set on fire. Firing continued, and two policemen were slightly wounded. The fire made a hole in the thatch, and bombs were thrown into the house. A party of about ten civilians came out of the house with their hands up. The police and military advanced into the yard to meet them. Thereupon shots were fired at them from the house. A mêlée ensued, in which several civilians were shot. The remaining civilians were then marched to the lorries and all arms collected. Twelve bodies of civilians were counted in the vicinity of the house, but, as it was getting dark, they were not removed at the time.

After other evidence had been given, a medical witness described the nature of the wounds which had caused the deaths of the civilians.

The Court returned a finding that the twelve men met their deaths from gun-shot and bomb wounds, inflicted by Crown forces in the execution of their duty, and at the time of meeting their deaths these civilians were taking part in active operations against the forces of the Crown. The Court found that no blame whatever in the matter attaches to the forces of the Crown or any member thereof.

FOOT-AND-MOUTH DISEASE.

CO. WICKLOW RESTRICTIONS MODIFIED.

The Department of Agriculture and Technical Instruction for Ireland have made an Order which removes, on and from the 1st instant, the scheduled foot-and-mouth district in County Wicklow, and the restrictions on the movement of animals hitherto imposed in connection therewith. Animals may, therefore, now be moved freely about any part of the County Wicklow, except into or out of the infected farms at Arklow, where the outbreaks of disease occurred, viz., at Ballyrichard and at Johnstown North.

BRITISH AND IRISH BOARDS IN CONFERENCE.

A Conference took place in London yesterday between representatives of the British and Irish Agricultural Departments respecting the discovery of foot-and-mouth disease in cattle recently imported from Ireland. As a result, it is hoped that trade in fat animals will be resumed when the Irish stock now detained at the landing places in Great Britain is liberated. Plans for re-starting the store trade are also under consideration by the two Departments.

THOUGHTS AND THEORIES.

Then you heel it out of the scrum and drag it to where twenty-five porters stand chattering volubly behind a barrier. Do not be afraid that they will touch it. Their job is to stand around and shout, "Tackle him low!" when you go to the mat with the railway official who registers your trunk to Copenhagen for those eighty-five yet. Nobody is looking for tips. They are all hoping that the official will find something wrong with your ticket, in which case I rather imagine they would close on you in a body and throw you into the dock. However, if you win this round on points, you are permitted to drag your trunk into the adjoining railway station and forget it. It will arrive in Copenhagen on the next train but one after yours. As the train bearing mine steamed in, a brass band and a glad galaxy of banners arrived in the station playing, "There's a beautiful land over there," and I really felt that my pertinacity had earned some slight acknowledgment. But it was the Salvation Army welcoming six chiefs-of-staff on a flying visit from the United States.

THE ADVENTURE OF LIFE.

From the earliest dawn of letters it has been a conceit of the poets and essayists to compare life to a journey. The way might be thought to lie through a vale of tears or among smiling pleasaunces according to the temperament of the writer. One assumed the rôle of strenuous pioneer, another that of the mariner drifting alone upon uncharted seas; a third was the merchant with his string of laden camels setting out for the Dawn of Nothing and gnawing the nail of hurry to begone. I remember as a child being profoundly impressed with a coloured chart, in which Mr. Worldly was seen making his way along the broad road to perdition—a handsome boulevard lined with publichouses, Sunday trains, and churches in which (one was allowed to infer) Popish abominations were practised—while Mr. Christian toiled laboriously up an incredibly steep and tortuous track beset at heart-breaking intervals with crouching lions.

Being young and impressionable, I had not lived long in the presence of this sermon in primary colours when I acquired a sneaking admiration for Mr. Worldly and a corresponding contempt for Mr. Christian. It was not that I was an early prey to pagan or voluptuous instincts. It was simply because Mr. Worldly was chubby and clean-shaven, while Mr. Christian had a long and rather shaggy beard. I had suffered—being a loveable little chap—from the embraces of my bearded elders, and whiskers had become as much an abomination in my sight as Sunday trains were in the sight of Mr. Christian.

To this astonishing work of art may be due the fact that I too early got the habit of thinking of life as a journey—a journey that I pictured not in terms of morality or emotion, but as embodying all the delightful adventures upon the highways and in the byways of the world that I read about and hoped one day to experience. Life was a great ship, with snowy decks and topsails reaching to the skies, in which one journeyed placidly through tropical islands. Great palm trees festooned with rare orchids (the flair for horticulture was already manifesting itself) waved above the water's edge, and birds and butterflies of gorgeous hue fluttered above the resplendent blossoms. Monkeys (which always had a strong fascination for me) swung in the branches, and sometimes a rakish-looking craft or a Chinese pirate junk lurked in a convenient backwater for our undoing. But they never undid us.

At other times the scene was changed, but always life represented a journey fraught with a pleasing wealth of geographical and biological detail. When I say that life was this and that to me I mean that it was these things that were conjured up in my mind whenever I read or heard it said that life was a journey. Often the preacher or philosopher would go further and declare that death was a journey, and here again I reproduced in my own mind what I imagined must be the pleasurable sensations of men who visit foreign lands for the first time.

As I look back at it now, I realise that the thing was never really a parable to me—that in those days a static existence was beyond my contemplation altogether. That I believe is true of all young men. Even now, when I realise that the first, though by no means the best, half of my life has been spent in a few comparatively tame spots, I courageously refuse to admit that my still youthful soul will not some day explore all the attractive places of the world that it has dreamed of in the past. I know in a sense that nothing of the sort can occur. I cannot go hunting orchids in Borneo and rhododendrons in Thibet, explore the Amazon, climb Kilimanjaro, visit Japan and the Caucasus, solve the mystery of Easter Island, and, with the shades of Vergil and Theocritus at my elbow, drink in the magic of blue Ægean or Umbrian grove. But there is always a possibility of my doing one of these things or of the many other things that I have dreamed of doing, and, so long as I do not know which, all remain, so to speak, on the cards. Whether I shall ever be able to put my vile corpus in dry dock, and contemplate life purely as a journey of the spirit, I do not know.

In that connection, the metaphor has always seemed to me to be far-fetched. We begin our journeys in fine weather, but life commences with a squall. A journey is a cycle. If we do not start from and return to an anchorage, we are merely nomads, and not real wayfarers. But life starts from nowhere, and, though it end on the threshold of a happy eternity, heaven is not really our home, but a new adventure. Why, then, do we cling so persistently to this conception of life as a journey? It seems because the physical and the spiritual are hard to separate. Life is the outcome of two opposing forces. The one—unconscious memory or whatever else it may be—stabilises it, causes the offspring to come true to type and so on, and thus makes individuality possible. The other—the tendency to sport, the power of the organism to adjust itself to environment, etc.—makes individuality a fact.

We are torn, in flesh and souls, between the desire to become static and the impulse to keep moving. If either impulse is definitely crushed, we become less than ourselves. It happens that, though I have done nothing to deserve it, I am occasionally asked to throw off a ready-to-wear philosophy of life for my juniors in nothing but years. On such occasions I have only one piece of advice to offer. "Keep on moving," I say; "physically if possible, but in any event spiritually. As between doing a thing and not doing it, always do it, and never lose an opportunity of trying something new." Only in this way can life be made a real adventure, a journey beset with all manner of marvels and wonders to behold.

A PROBLEM OF SPRING.

When April skies are mellow
 And April woods are green,
And kirtled all in yellow
 The primrose may be seen,
 Most diffident of mien;

When lambs are growing fatter,
 And early peas appear
On my expectant platter,
And lovely women chatter
Of Madame Blague, the hatter,
 And seasonable gear;

Now, when the young wheat panels
 Valleys the ploughman paced,
And bright in streams and channels
 The kingcups stand, I haste
To see if last year's flannels
 Still fit me round the waist.

THE DUBLIN MUNICIPAL ART GALLERY.

A meeting of the Advisory Committee of the Dublin Municipal Art Gallery was held in the Gallery on the 24th March. Mr. Coghlan Briscoe occupied the chair, and Mr. Thomas Bodkin and the Curator were present.

A letter was read from Sir Hutcheson Poë kindly consenting to extend the loan of his pictures. This interesting collection, which includes works by Sargent, Orpen, Monticelli, Steer, etc., will remain on view in the Gallery till the 15th inst.

A portrait sketch of Mr. Douglas Goldring, by Paul Nash, offered on loan by the Curator, was accepted, and arrangements were made with regard to future loans and gifts.

IRISH RETAIL TAILORING TRADE.

The Retail Bespoke Tailoring Trade Board (Ireland) met in Dublin on Wednesday and further considered the question of the compilation of a log as a national basis of computation for the payment of piece-work in the trade. The Board decided to appoint a special committee, consisting of four employers' representatives and four workers' representatives, with the appointed members, to consider suggested amendments or additions to the Scotch log, and to report thereon to the Board. It was also decided to ask the Minister of Labour to afford the committee such technical advice as they may think necessary and advisable, and it was agreed that the committee should meet as soon as possible.

The Board agreed to propose for male workers employed in rural areas engaged in the making of naval and military dress uniforms, frock and evening dress coats, scarlet, melton, and faced cloth hunt coats, and Court and diplomatic garments a general minimum time-rate of 1s. 7d. per hour and a piece-work basis time-rate of 1s. 8½d. per hour, to operate for a period of three months, and a general minimum time-rate of 1s. 8½d. and a piece-work basis time-rate of 1s. 10d. per hour, to operate subsequently; and for the same class of workers in other areas a general minimum time-rate of 1s. 9d. per hour and a piece-work basis time-rate of 1s. 10½d. per hour.

The further deliberations of the Board were adjourned, pending the report of the special committee on the log question.

Curtis (General Secretary).

Letters apologising for non-attendance were read from the Earl of Pembroke and Montgomery, M.V.O., President; Fane Vernon, D.L.; Sir Stewart Woodhouse, M.D.; D. W. Carpmills, J.P.; W. F. Wells, Mrs. E. A. Holmes, Dr. and Mrs. Baker, Mrs. E. S. Murphy, George F. Healy, Miss B. Wybrants Olpherts, A. E. Wynne, M.D. (Hon. Secretary); Mrs. Pim, E. W. Harris, LL.D.

A letter was read from the Right Hon. Andrew Jameson, D.L. (Vice-President), thanking the Association for its congratulations on his appointment to H.M. Privy Council in Ireland.

The report of the Executive Council stated that during the year the efforts of the Council were largely devoted to the annual work of inspection and registration of voters. The Local Government elections were held during the year, and the six members nominated by the Association were elected to the Pembroke Urban Council. One member was returned unopposed, and a member was re-elected to the Dublin Board of Guardians. The members of the Women's Central Council were untiring in their efforts in canvassing the electors in connection with the elections. During the year 185 new members joined the Association.

In proposing the adoption of the report and statement of accounts, the Chairman referred to the losses by death of many friends and supporters of the Association. He mentioned, in particular, Sir Robert Gardner and Sir Gabriel Stokes, two staunch and uncompromising Unionists. He urged upon them to keep the Association in a sound financial position, and to show that they believe that the Union was the best form of government for this unhappy country. The state of Ireland was very bad indeed. The seed sown by irresponsible members of the British Parliament some ten or twelve years ago was now being reaped, and to his mind those were the people who should be severely dealt with now.

MR. W. M. JELLETT.

Mr. W. M. Jellett, K.C., M.P., who seconded, said that in the old days, when they were threatened with what was called Home Rule, it meant something very different from what it would now. They faced it then because they know what it would lead to. They faced it now because they were confronted with a movement much more combined, much more dangerous, much more outspoken, and much more determined than anything that they had ever met with before. They were confronted now with not only a revolutionary movement in Ireland, but with a revolutionary movement throughout the world. The Irish part of that movement was only one part of it. The object of the movement was a conspiracy for the destruction of the British Empire, and they were taking as a means to that end three fronts. One was India, another was Egypt, and the last was Ireland. At the moment Ireland was the fighting front, and the conspiracy in Ireland was conducted with the support of funds from abroad, as it had been for several years past. It was supported by Bolshevik funds from Russia, it was supported from Germany, and it was supported from the extreme factions in the United States. There were two ways of getting peace. One was to smash the conspiracy, and the other was to surrender to it. They would not put an end to the conspiracy by giving to Ireland something that Ireland did not want—something that Ireland had repudiated in the most emphatic manner. The only way that they would satisfy this people was by giving them good, firm government, with Ireland as part of the United Kingdom. The present Act, although it was now passed, was hated and loathed by every section of the Irish people. In the North of Ireland the Ulster Parliament would probably get on its legs, but would soon be found to be unworkable, while in the South, owing to the opposition of Sinn Fein, it would never come into being. He referred to these matters for the purpose of emphasising that, in the bitter school of experience, the British public must learn that there was only one issue in Ireland. They must make up their minds finally whether they were going to keep Ireland, or were going to set up an independent kingdom. In conclusion, Mr. Jellett said that the members of the Women's Central Council were about to start a campaign to raise additional funds for the work of the Association.

Mr. W. M. Hatte, in supporting, said that the funds of the Association were in a satisfactory condition.

The motion was passed unanimously.

IRISH NATIONAL TEACHERS' CONGRESS.

THE PENSIONS QUESTION.

PROPOSED DEPUTATION TO PRIME MINISTER.

The concluding session of the annual conference of the delegates of the Irish National Teachers' Organisation was held yesterday in the Hibernian Hall, Rutland square, Dublin, Mr. D. C. Maher, B.A., presiding.

The conference was engaged during the morning in private session, in discussing alterations in the rules and constitution of the Association, and certain recommendations made by the Audit Committee, which recommended that a voluntary levy of at least 10s. per member be paid at the next Association meeting; also that a further voluntary levy of at least 5s. per member be made, and that the Central Executive Committee be given power to borrow a sum of £1,000 to meet expenditure in connection with "interned" teachers and their dependents, that amount to be repaid from special levy.

The recommendations were adopted.

APPEAL TO THE PRIME MINISTER.

Mr. Ramsey (Cookstown) moved, and Mr. Devlin (Dundalk) seconded, the following resolution, which was unanimously adopted:—"That, owing to the urgency of the question of pensions, and in view of the fact that the English and Scotch teachers have obtained a satisfactory settlement based on their new salary scales, and inasmuch as Irish teachers were assured by the Government that, as a corollary to the setting up of our new salaries, our pensions would be similarly dealt with by the Imperial Parliament, this Congress, representing the national teachers of Ireland, demands, in right and justice, that the Imperial Parliament satisfies this claim, and that an interview be obtained with the Prime Minister with the view to the immediate settlement of this question."

The Chairman suggested that the resolution should be telegraphed to the Prime Minister. They had a right to demand that the pensions question should be settled immediately. (Hear, hear.)

On the motion of Mr. Harbison (Belfast), seconded by Mr. McNellis (Dungannon), a resolution was adopted expressing the view of the conference that the proposed legislative changes in Ireland should not affect the unity of the Irish National Teachers' Organization.

NEXT YEAR'S CONGRESS.

A telegram from Kilkenny Corporation was read inviting the Organisation to hold the Congress at Kilkenny next year.

The Chairman said that owing to present circumstances it had been the custom for some years to leave the decision on that matter to the Central Executive Committee. He suggested that the matter be left in the hands of the Central Executive Committee.

This suggestion was adopted.

On the motion of Mr. T. Jones (Cork), seconded by Mr. Meehan (C.E.C.), and supported by many delegates, a hearty vote of thanks was passed to Mr. Maher, outgoing President.

A number of speakers expressed the hope that Mr. Maher would in the near future again occupy the Presidency of the Association.

RED CROSS WORK IN IRELAND.

DUPLICATION OF SERVICES.

A meeting of the Headquarters Committee of the British Red Cross Society and Order of St. John, Leinster, Munster, and Connaught, was held at 40 Merrion square, Dublin, on the 23rd March. There were present—Sir John Lumsden, K.B.E., in the chair; the Right Hon. Jonathan Hogg, P.C.; Sir Joseph McGrath, LL.D.; Mr. Denis R. Pack Beresford, O.B.E., D.L.; Mr. W. Geoghegan, M.B.E., D.L.; the Lord Chief Justice of Ireland, Lady Shaw, and Lady Everard.

Apologies were received from the Countess of Bandon, C.B.E.; the Hon. Lady Bellingham, M.B.E.; Sir Henry McLaughlin, K.B.E.; Lady Arnott, D.B.E.; and Edward White, Esq.

Condolence on the deaths of the Right Hon. Mr. Justice Kenny, a member of the Committee; Lord Talbot de Malahide, and Mr. J. Byrne, County Director for Westmeath, were passed in silence, the members standing.

The Chairman reported the result of the two conferences which had been held at headquarters of representatives of all the organisations having for their object the relief of ex-service men and their dependents. The object of these conferences was, he explained, to endeavour to bring about greater co-operation and to prevent overlapping and duplication. The Chairman said an unanimous desire was expressed by the delegates to keep in touch, to define their respective spheres of usefulness, and to endeavour to relieve as far as possible the many cases of hardship and necessity, doubly numerous at present owing to the disturbed state of the country, appeals for aid pouring in daily. A scheme was presented which it is hoped will bring this about, and also make available further funds for the relief of suffering and want amongst the families of those who served in the war.

Grants in aid of an urgent character were considered and approved. These included an X-ray equipment to Doctor Steeven's Hospital, an electro cardiograph and necessary equipment for a heart department to Mercer's Hospital; a grant to the Regional Director, Ministry of Pensions, for sports and recreation of men at Blackrock Orthopædic Hospital; grants to Peamount and Newcastle Sanatoria for tubercular ex-service men, electrical equipment for the Kilkenny Orthopædic Clinic at Aut Even Hospital.

A report of the Red Cross Emergency Committee, which was recently set up and operates in close touch with the local pensions committee throughout the provinces, was read. Many cases of urgency had been assisted with small grants and loans.

RELIEF WORK IN CORK.

The Chairman reported the result of investigations made in Cork last December, after the fires, when the Finance Committee had allocated the following to relieve the immediate necessities of the poor and those in need of first aid:—£300 to the City of Cork Relief Committee; £100 to the Most Rev. Dr. Cohalan; £100 to the Right Rev. Bishop Dowse; £100 to Arthur Winder, Esq., O.B.E., County Director; £100 to Lady Strickland for soldiers' families.

WORK OF THE DEPARTMENTS.

The Joint Secretaries presented a report dealing with the following departments and their work during the past twelve months:—

Orthopædic Clinics, 110 St. Stephen's Green—Number of officers and men examined, 2,000; number of men treated, 567; number of officers treated, 48; number of treatments (massage, electrical, radiant heat or remedial exercises)—officers, 5,545; men, 71,998.

51 Lower Mount street—Number of officers and men examined, 1,151; number of officers and men treated, 500; number of treatments—officers, 373; men, 47,032. For the two clinics the total number of treatments amounted to 124,948.

Staff—Two sisters-in-charge, 1 masseur, 23 masseuses.

It was also reported that clinics had been set up at Drogheda, Mullingar, Kilkenny, and Waterford, all of which were doing excellent work.

Hostel, 110 St. Stephen's Green, for men undergoing treatment—Number of cases, 182; number of meals served, 48,305.

Limbless Department.—Number of men helped, 120; grants made amounting to £679 5s. 9d.; loans made amounting to £537 17s. 7d.; loans repaid, £271 17s.

Hospital Supply Dépôt, which supplies gratuitously dressings to the city hospitals and Queen Victoria Jubilee District Nurses.—Dressings made, 78,000; number of voluntary workers 82.

THE AMBULANCE SERVICE.

Ambulance Transport.—The two Dublin ambulances have removed 461 patients from the city, suburbs, or county—St. John Ambulance, 360 cases; British Red Cross Society, 101 cases.

It is hoped that this ambulance service for civilians will be made fuller use of. Medical men and hospitals can obtain the services of one of the ambulances for urgent cases at short notice for a small fee, which partially covers the working expense. Applications should be made to the Secretaries, 40 Merrion square. Telephones—4622 for the city and 4590 for county cases.

The Chairman announced that owing to their efforts the following sums had been allocated by the United Services Fund, on the recommendation of the London Joint Committee of Nurses and V.A.D.'s:—The Nurses' Club, 54 Fitzwilliam square, £1,000; the V.A.D. Club, 24 Molesworth street, £1,000.

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR.

CANADA AND IRELAND.

TO THE EDITOR OF THE IRISH TIMES.

SIR,—Having lived in several countries, among them Canada, and in Ireland for many years, I must say that I have seen some splendid and healthy cattle in Canada, and they are well housed there; but that is very necessary owing to the very long and severe winters. In Ireland, the climate being so mild, it is hardly necessary—except in the case of stall-fed cattle and cows—to house them at all. Where has "Canadian" been in Ireland that he has not seen the beautiful grazing farms in Meath and the Midlands, where the quality of the grass excels that of any Canadian ranch that I have ever seen? Also on every good farm over here there are barns, sheds, or good shelters where grazing cattle are put when it is necessary they should have shelter. American and Canadian visitors to my house have said that they never got at home such good quality beef as over here, and these were well-to-do people, who always bought the best of everything that they could procure. "Irish prime beef" is celebrated all over the world.

Whether it is right or not right to remove the embargo on Canadian cattle is for wiser heads than mine to decide; but let them not forget that it was repeatedly said during the late war that the British Isles must always in future be self-supporting. In the event of another war at any time there would be a famine in Great Britain if in the meantime the Irish cattle-raising industry was allowed to decline. Yet go down it must if the embargo on Canadian cattle is removed. Perhaps, "Canadian" does not realise that everyone in the Midlands and South of Ireland is not a Sinn Feiner, and that in 1914 all the gentleman farmers or their sons in these counties rushed to join up to fight for the British Empire. This class has suffered greatly. Very many only sons have been killed; there are a great many widows; also lots of fine young men minus an arm or a leg, and others blind. Perhaps, it is because so many of this class in Ireland were killed that the few left are having such a hard time of it now.—Yours, etc.,

"A COSMOPOLITAN."

King's County, March 31st, 1921.

THE GOLDEN APPLE.

TO THE EDITOR OF THE IRISH TIMES.

SIR,—Referring to your article on "The Golden Apple" in yesterday's Irish Times, may I give my experience? Some few years ago, before the war, I used to sell apples from my orchard, through a London poultry salesman, at one of the large markets. The apples were all named sorts, hand-picked, graded, and packed in 40lb. boxes. The price which I obtained was from 3d. to 5d. per lb. I suppose that the "Ring" found it out. Anyway, my salesman friend wrote to me regretting that he could sell no more, but giving no reason. I then sent similar cases to a salesman at Covent Garden, and the price that I received was, as near as possible, one penny for 5lbs. of apples. Needless to say, I sent no more, and my apples rotted or were sold to a cider factory.—Yours, etc., "EXPERIENCE."

Dublin, April 1st, 1921.

COUNTY MONAGHAN QUARTER SESSIONS BUSINESS.

County Court Judge Johnston, at Castleblayney Quarter Sessions yesterday, stated that, owing to the occupation of the Courthouse in Monaghan by the military forces, the entire Quarter Sessions business, both civil and criminal, would be taken in Clones. He said that this would entail a certain amount of inconvenience upon some of those who had business at the Sessions, which would, under normal circumstances, be held in Monaghan on Thursday, the 7th inst., but it could not be avoided under the circumstances. He considered it more suitable that the legal business of the county should be transacted in Clones rather than in Monaghan at the present time, and he understood that the necessary order of transfer was being made. The cases would be taken in Clones in the very same order as they would have been heard in Monaghan, but arrangements would be made on the first day of the Sessions to dispose of the business in the minimum number of days. He added that owing to the occupation of the Newtownbutler Courthouse by the police similarly the whole of the legal business which would be heard there on April 14 and 15 would be transferred for hearing at Enniskillen.

LIFELESS STOCKS.

COAL STRIKE EFFECTS.

(FROM THE FINANCIAL NEWS OF TO-DAY.)

So far as business is concerned there was scarcely anything doing, and for the greater part of the day the tendency was generally weaker, although here and there towards the close a suspicion of an improvement in tone was apparent. Except in the case of certain favoured investment Stocks, among which are to be numbered some Foreign Government Bonds public interest at the moment seems to have almost reached the evaporating point. Other markets are showing more susceptibility to the coal situation, although the effect has been to cause a reduction of business rather than any general disposition to force selling. Home Rails were the principal sufferers from the coal strike. With one notable exception—Furness were prominent with a rise of a point to 25½—all classes of Stocks were subjected to a decline in price. Markets naturally opened dull on the latest strike news, but, though it was difficult to shake off the prevailing lethargy, many members of the House are by no means pessimistically inclined in their views on the labour position as relating to the component parts of the Triple Alliance. There is still a profound belief that common-sense will ultimately prevail, and, as one broker sententiously put it, the workers would not "burn their houses to roast the capitalist."

LONDON STOCKS DULL.

(FROM OUR FINANCIAL CORRESPONDENT.)

The London Stock Markets, under the influence of the coal strike and the possibilities therewith, were generally dull and depressed. There was no particular feature and no flatness, simply a practical cessation of any sort of speculation or investment enterprise. Consequently nearly everything was lower where there was any change at all. In very few instances was any change shown in high class investment stocks. War Loan was, in demand, recovering to 87⅛, while Consols were firm at 48¼. Funding Loan hardened to 70¼ and Victory Bonds to 77¾. Elsewhere there was nothing calling for mention, except that Home Railway Pref., Guaranteed, and Debenture Stocks were marked down.

Foreign Government Securities, as usual on April 1st, were quoted ex coupon. That was particularly so as regards Brazilian and Chinese issues, among them being the Old Funding at 65 and the 1889 at 44. Chinese of 1896 were also lower at 83½ x.d. Chinese Fours of 1895 rose to 76. Argentine Rescissions were a good spot with a rise to 56½. German Threes were lower at 6 x.d., and the French Loans remained at 34 for the Fours and 41½ for the Fives. Greek Bonds were better. Egyptian Unified further fell to 64 and the 3½ p.c. Pref. to 54½.

In Home Rails, the reaction made further progress, and a substantial part of the recent considerable advance has been lost. Midlands, for instance, were back to 43½, Great Western to 67½, and North-Western to 70½. Berwicks were 73½. The stocks mentioned were about ½ to 1 down. Brighton A was dull at 41½. Dover A fell to 22½, Great Eastern fell to 27¾, and Yorks to 27½. Metropolitans were another point down at 24, and Underground Incomes declined sharply to 70. Districts were lower at 14½.

"Campacs" were a point lower at 142. The Central Argentine dividend is considered disappointing, and the price receded to 54½. Other Argentines were also easier. "B.A.G.S." at 56 and Westerns at 57½. Havanas were fractionally lower at 68. Mexicans were still marking time, and Grand Trunks the same.

INDUSTRIALS QUIET AND DEPRESSED IN TONE.

(FROM THE FINANCIAL NEWS OF TO-DAY.)

The Miscellaneous and Industrial sections were inclined to droop yesterday, prices generally moving against holders, though business was still very restricted. To the unfavourable conditions the coal situation was mainly contributory, jobbers being early disposed to mark prices back as a precaution against possible realisations. Among West African Produce issues, African and Eastern fell away sharply on provincial selling, the shares dipping at one time to 34s., though closing 1½ as against an overnight quotation of 2. British Oil and Cake was flat at 22s. 6d., or 1s. 3d. down, and elsewhere in the Miscellaneous list Dunlops receded ⅞d. to 12s. Magadi Soda lost 6d. at 10s. 6d. and Sun Fuel relapsed to 4s. 3d. Welsbach Ord. at 3s. 4d. were the turn easier, as also were British Glass at 3s. 6d., but De Treys were a firm spot at 25s. 3d., and British and Argentine Meat were steady at £1. Vauxhall lost 6d. at 7s. 9d. in the Motor group, but among Breweries Hoare Ord. were in renewed request, affording the only sign of life, with an improvement of ¼ at 7¼. In spite of a further drop of 1s. 3d. in Courtaulds to 33s., there was not much business passing in the shares, actual stock coming out slowly. Elsewhere in the Textile group Amalgamated Cottons eased to 13s. 6d., a loss of 3d. Coats at 2¼ showed a decline of ⅛, and Spinners receded ⅛ to 1½. Listers were also lower at 16s. Among Stores, Harrods were not so firm at 1⅞, and J. Barker lost 6d. at 33s. Army and Navy Co-op. hardened to 1½. In the Foodstuff list scarcely any movements appeared. J. Lyons at 4¼ were ⅛ down, but Maypoles were still 9s., and Bovril Def. maintained at 13s. 3d. Imperial Tobaccos lost the turn at 4/s. 3d. B.A.T. also easing to 3½, while A. Baker at 19s. were 6d. off. On the official announcement regarding the Peruvian extension, Marconis came into favour, further improving on balance to 2⅛, which was also the quotation for the Pref. Eastern Telegraph were easier at 160, but Trust Securities enjoyed an all-round appreciation, frequent rises of 2 points being noted. In the Iron and Steel department dealers were still inclined to await events, and prices were not much affected by the coal strike. Vickers, however, were easier at 12s. 6d., South Durham Steel lost ⅛ at 2¼, and Guest Keen 5d. at 31s. 6d. On the other hand, Armstrongs at 18s. were quite firm. Chinese Engineering put on ⅛ to 4⅝ and Clayton and Shuttleworth hardened to 10s. The easier tendency of P. and O. Def. noticeable on the previous day was accentuated, a further fall of 15 points to 335 being recorded. Elsewhere Furness Withy eased to 21s. 6d. and Cunards to 19s. 6d., but Western Counties picked up to 4s. 6d. In the Gas group Imperial Continental eased ½ to 163, but Coal Stocks were steady, and in the Land section Forestals stiffened to 28s. 3d., though Pokins lost 3d. at 14s. Banks showed slightly more movement, but in a downward direction, Lloyds losing another 6d. at 46s., and Barclays B shedding the same amount at 42s. In the Insurance list, General Accident eased to 3¼ and United British to 3¾.

MINING MARKET SMALL.

KAFFIRS STEADY—WEST SPRINGS VALUES.

(FROM THE FINANCIAL NEWS OF TO-DAY.)

After a broken week, during which business all round the House has been on a limited scale, and in view of the serious development in the coal trade, it was hardly to be expected that yesterday would witness much change in conditions. Indeed, if anything, the volume of transactions was further reduced, and this was particularly noticeable in the Mining departments. Despite the slackness, however, the tone kept remarkably firm, and little further inroad was made upon quotations. South Africans were better here and there, and a hopeful view was taken of the proposed legislation for the removal of the provincial taxation. Although the measure introduced by the Finance Minister is expected to pass the various stages and become operative in a short time, the mines cannot hope immediately to benefit from the relief afforded, but, at any rate, it is a step in the right direction. Several of the Far Eastern shares were being quietly nibbled at, but the rumours as to the West Springs assay values were confirmed, the average of 213 samples of reef giving only 2.04 dwt. over 100 in. Although this is unpayable, it affords no criterion as to the values generally, and further development results are awaited with interest. Changes on balance were few in number and irregular in character. The price of gold further hardened to £5 4s. 10d. per oz., but neither Paris nor Cape support was forthcoming, and dealers were not sorry to see the close of a somewhat dreary week. Stagnation was even more marked in the Rhodesian department, and, although several of the leading shares were mentioned, actual dealings were few and far between, and the only noticeable alteration was a small advance in Gaika. Diamonds kept very steady, despite the poor position of the industry and the indifference of Paris.

OIL SHARE MARKET QUIET.

(FROM THE FINANCIAL NEWS OF TO-DAY.)

Oil Shares commanded only a small amount of attention yesterday, business being of an even quieter character than on the preceding day. Interest centred mainly on a few of the leading descriptions, among which Mexican Eagles received the bulk of attention, and were the firmest spot in the market. At the opening they were looking none too bright, the price at the start being below that ruling overnight, but Paris came in a buyer on a fair scale, the quotation responding to the demand. Paris operators gave up to 5⅛ for the shares, and the best price touched was 5¾, but on the cessation of Paris purchases they slipped back, and at the close only a small gain was shown. Very little life was noticeable in other leading shares. Shells kept around 5¼ for the greater part of the day, and weakened at the end to 5⅛, while Royal Dutch were offered, and moved down appreciably, and Burmahs also weakened. Anglo-Persian new Prefs. were again changing hands freely, the price keeping very firm all day. Trinidad issues had a heavy appearance during the early hours, but hardened in the afternoon, although at the end losses were still registered by Centrals, Apex Trinidad, and United British. A slightly easier tendency developed among Russians, shrinkages occurring in North Caucasians and Ural Caspians. Rumanians were also inclined to sag. Transactions in Tankers Prefs. were mostly conducted on an ex dividend basis, although officially the shares will not be quoted ex the dividend until April 14th. Where dealings took place ex dividend, they were marked as exceptional bargains. The price of the shares at the close was thus 14s. 3d. cum dividend and 13s. 9d. ex dividend. Closing prices:—

(FROM OUR FINANCIAL CORRESPONDENT.)

There was no change in the condition of the Rubber Share Market, where scarcely any active interest was taken either by professionals or the public. Day after day it is merely a question of putting prices a few pence up or down. Rubber Trusts fell 6d. to 18s. and Anglo-Dutch were slightly lower at 28s. 3d. Vallambrosas were again called 13s. 9d. United Serdang New were rather better at 7½d. prem., but Bukit Rajah were dull at 20s. 4½d. Speaking generally, quotations remain exactly the same as overnight.

FINANCIAL PARAGRAPHS.

The transfer books of the City of Dublin Steam Packet Company will be closed on Wednesday, 13th instant, until after the date of the half-yearly meeting, of which due notice will be given.

It was announced yesterday that there will be no dividend on the Ordinary Shares of the Rio Tinto Co. for the year 1920, a balance of £378,000 being carried forward, as compared with £348,670 brought in. It will be recalled that in September last, when the interim dividend was passed, the directors, in a circular to the shareholders, gave as reasons the labour troubles and the abnormal condition of the copper market. For 1919 a dividend of 40 per cent. was paid, for 1918 50 per cent., and for 1917 90 per cent., and an unbroken string of payments runs back to 1879.

"Danger Ahead!" is the title of a very full and clear statement of the railway stockholders' case, compiled by the Central Council of the English, Scottish, and Irish Railway Stockholders' Associations, and published at 6d. by the St. Catherine's Press, Stamford street, Waterloo, London, S.E. 1. In view of the decontrol of the railways on 15th August, every shareholder should assist in the efforts now being made to compel the Government to hand over his property in a dividend-earning position similar to that in which it stood when taken over at the outbreak of the war, and there is at present no better means to this end than whole-hearted support of the Stockholders Protection Associations. The pamphlet just issued contains a special chapter on the critical case of the Irish railways and a form of application for membership of the Irish Association.

According to the statistics compiled by the Commercial Bank of London, the total valuation of the ordinary stocks and shares of home industrial companies was, at the close of the month just ended, £237,470,671. This figure compares with £262,971,401 at the close of the preceding month of February, 1921, and with £332,283,542 at the close of March, 1920, a year ago. The corresponding figure at the close of March, 1914 (pre-war), was £160,176,188. The market premium on these home industrial securities represented by the market price over the paid-up capital is now 26.16 per cent., compared with a premium of 29 per cent. at the end of February, 1921; a premium of 134.92 per cent. a year ago, and a premium of 75.88 per cent. at the end of March, 1914. The new capital offered by subscriptions by home industrial companies in the past month of March amounted to £10,929,969, there being 21 issues. The corresponding figures in February, 1921, were 16 issues, amounting to £2,851,121; in March, 1920—a year ago—86 issues, amounting to £47,846,455, and for March, 1914 (pre-war), 21 issues, amounting to £4,745,725. The new issue figures of last month include Dunlop Rubber £3,000,000 8 per cent. Debentures at 98, and Lever Brothers £4,000,000 7 per cent. Debentures at 92½. The new issue figures of March, 1920, include British Cellulose of £2,800,000 7½ per cent. Prefs., Crosse and Blackwell £2,689,321 7½ per cent. Prefs., and Crosse and Winkworth £3,000,000 10 per cent. Prefs.

Western Counties Shipping debenture holders have received circulars asking sanction to an alteration in a trust deed permitting insurance to be paid in quarterly instalments, instead of yearly, in advance. It is mentioned that the gross profits last year were £900,000, out of which £170,000 has been spent on improving the fleet. Debentures for £200,000 have been redeemed, and £150,000 mortgages paid off. Depression in the trade necessitates the present proposal.

A telegram from the Amsterdam correspondent of the Financial News, dated Friday, says:—At an extraordinary general meeting of the Royal Dutch Co., held on Thursday, the increase of capital to 600,000,000 florins was approved, and the directors appointed. The president, in reply to a question, said that competition with the Standard Oil Co. had taken place since 1890, and was now feared less than ever before. The world's oil supplies were not very large, and the Royal Dutch Co. were in a strong position, having very extensive oilfields in all parts of the world.

THE MONEY MARKET.

SHARP FALL IN LOAN RATES.

Bank Rate (changed April 15th) .... 7 p.c.

On the London Money market heavy disbursements were made in the shape of Government and other dividends, and conditions were easier. At the same time, the effect of these dividend distributions will probably not be felt for a few days. The amount which fell due at the bank was easily repaid, and in the open market daily money was usually obtainable at 5¼ p.c., while towards the close balances were offered at 5 p.c. Discount rates are distinctly easier, but here again it will probably be a case of further adjustment later on. The banks are not buying at all freely, and business is very quiet. The rate for June bills, for instance, is anything from 5½ to 5¾ p.c.

Bank Rate (Discount) changed April 15, 1920			7%

Gold further rose 1d. to 104s. 10d. per oz. fine. Bar silver declined ⅛d. for cash to 32¼d. per oz., and ⅛d. for forward delivery to 32⅝d. per oz. The fall was due to selling by India and the Continent.

There was a fair amount of dealing in the principal foreign exchanges, but, on the whole, fluctuations were small. French francs depreciated, the rate at one time rising to 56.20, against 55.90 on Thursday night. The Belgian rate was also higher, but not to the same extent. German marks improved a shade. Danish currency was dearer, but the two other Scandinavian centres moved in our favour, and the Italian rate was a little higher. New York showed little change on balance.

WELDLESS STEEL TUBE.—Interim dividends amounting to 15 per cent., free of tax, on Ord. and Employees' Shares have been paid. No further dividend recommended.

INTERNATIONAL LINOTYPE.—Final dividend recommended of 4 per cent. for the year ending 31st March, making, with the interim dividend paid on 1st November, 1920, 6¼ per cent. for the year, being at the same rate as for the preceding year.

BIRMINGHAM SMALL ARMS.—Balance dividends on the 5 per cent. "A" and 6 per cent. "B" Preference Shares, less tax, and carry forward £510,818. The expenses of the issue of £2,500,000 6½ per cent. 12-Year Notes have been written off out of reserves. As to the acquisition of the whole of the Ordinary capital of the Aircraft Manufacturing Co., Ltd., and an interest in Peter Hooker, Ltd., no amount is included in the assets in respect of these investments, which has been entirely written off out of reserves. In connection with the contingent liability to the bank for £950,000, no charge is likely to fall upon the company.

METROPOLE HOTELS CO. (IRELAND), LTD.—The meeting of shareholders was held yesterday at the Grosvenor Hotel, the directors present being Sir Thomas W. Robinson (in the chair), Mr. Harold Mitchell, and Mr. R. Noel Mitchell. A small number of shareholders attended. The Chairman referred to the great loss they had sustained through the death of the late Dr. J. C. McWalter, one of the directors of the company. He then proposed the report and statement of accounts for the year ended 31st December, 1920, which was seconded by Mr. Harold Mitchell, and carried unanimously. A dividend of 6 per cent., less income tax, was declared, and a sum of £958 0/4 carried forward to the next account (subject to directors' fees). The retiring director, Sir Thomas W. Robinson, and the retiring auditor, Mr. Thomas Geoghegan, chartered accountant, were both re-elected. The proceedings terminated with a vote of thanks to the directors.

BRITISH DYESTUFFS CORPORATION.—Presiding at the annual meeting, which sanctioned the 8 per cent. dividend upon the Preferred Ord. Shares and increased the carry forward by £145,000, Sir Henry Birchenough said that while continuous progress had been made by extending the company's manufacturing equipment, still the erection of some important plants had not been completed, which had prevented the company from meeting in every instance the demand for dyestuffs. Meanwhile, in connection with the concentration of the original two big undertakings which formed this corporation, it was proposed that the present managing directors, Dr. Herbert Levinstein and Sir Joseph Turner, should be ordinary directors only. This proposal resulted in a prolonged discussion, with many expressions of dissent. The Chairman stated that he was not yet prepared to give the name of the gentleman who was intended to be their future general manager. There had certainly been friction in the working of the Corporation under the original managing directors; hence the Board, after careful consideration, had terminated the agreement of Messrs. Levinstein and Turner. The Chairman regarded an amendment for a committee of inquiry upon this matter was a virtual vote of censure, and both he and Mr. George P. Norton, of Huddersfield, urged the shareholders to trust the Board. However, the proposers insisted, but their amendment was defeated.

MARKET REPORTS.

GRAIN.—DUBLIN CORN EXCHANGE, Friday.—A holiday and idle disposition still permeates business in grain, and anything doing is of a retail character, in which prices have rather an uncertain basis, and business presents little or no general interest. CATTLE.—BIRKENHEAD, Friday.—Owing to the outbreak of foot-and-mouth disease all trade for Irish cattle at the Birkenhead lairages has been temporarily stopped.

HEGARTY AND KELLY'S REPORT.—Hegarty and Kelly report lighter supplies of cattle in Glasgow Market to-day (Wednesday). Bullocks and heifers met an improved demand at firmer prices. Bulls and cows were also in better request, and the turn dearer.—275 Duke street, Glasgow, 30th March, 1921.—(Advt.)

Trade remains dragging and limited, and values less regular and generally weaker. Best selected parcels of Up-to-Dates, etc., 7/- to 7/6 per cwt.; Kerrs, etc., 10/- and 10/6 per cwt.

LONDON, Friday.—BUTTER—A new distribution was in force this week, and prices show a general reduction: Dutch 264/- to 258/-; Danish 284/- to 282/-; Australian 248/- to 250/-, ditto third grade 212/- to 214/-; Irish new 316/-, ditto old 224/- to 240/-; New Zealand 266/- to 270/-; Argentine 252/-, ditto second grade 212/- to 244/-. CHEESE—Coloured—Parcels of Canadian and New Zealand are in fair demand, but scarce, otherwise a dull state of affairs prevailed; Canadian white 150/- to 156/-, ditto coloured 162/-; New Zealand white 140/- to 144/-, ditto coloured 158/- to 162/-; Cheshire 150/- to 180/-; Cheddar 150/- to 180/-, ditto loaf 180/- to 196/-; Australian white 136/- to 140/-, ditto coloured 154/- to 158/-; Dutch 40 p.c. 156/- to 166/-, ditto 30 p.c. 130/- to 132/-, ditto 20 p.c. 118/- to 122/-; Gouda 40 p.c. 166/- to 188/-, ditto 30 p.c. 126/- to 128/-, ditto 20 p.c. 112/- to 114/-. BACON—American fresh imports meet with some inquiry, but old goods neglected. Canadian, Irish, Danish, and Dutch in good request; Irish 200/- to 215/-; Danish 213/-; Swedish 207/-; Dutch 204/- to 206/-; Canadian 160/- to 170/-; American Cumberland cut 147/6; English cut 157/6; Wiltshire cut 136/- to 150/-. HAMS—English in good demand, while sparingly offered. American also scarce, but c.i.f. rates are considerably below official spot prices; York Cumberland style 2/2 to 2/9 per lb.; Canadian long 180/-, ditto short 175/-; American long 180/-, ditto short 175/-; shoulders square 135/-; New York 140/-, picnics 100/-. LARD quiet, and prices unsettled. American easier; Irish 104/- to 110/-, boxes 100/-, American refined 85/- to 92/-. EGGS—Steady demand; English new laid 22/- to 23/6, Irish 21/- to 21/6, duck 26/- to 27/-; Styrian blues 17/6 to 18/-; Danish 18lbs. 23/-, ditto 17lbs. 22/-, ditto 16lbs. 20/- to 21/-; Egyptian 14/-.

LIVERPOOL, Friday.—Arrivals of BACON are on a fair scale, and between Government holdings and free parcels the market is well supplied with most descriptions. Forces appear to be more interested, and some inquiry is experienced, but trading on the whole is of only a moderate character. American Wiltshires are still quoted 135/-, Cumberlands 135/-, bellies 125/- to 130/-, backs 122/- to 127/6, though some sellers are accepting under these prices to make progress. State Wiltshires are round about 80/- to 100/-, and Cumberlands 90/- to 100/-, according to condition, but few show granules. Canadian Wiltshires remain quiet, with best averages 160/- to 170/-, and extra heavy and extreme light weights 130/- to 135/- cwt. Irish still in limited compass, but rather more expected in some cases next week, with price again 200/- to 215/- ex factory, Danish 213/- ex port, Swedish 207/-, and Dutch 204/- to 206/- per cwt. HAMS quietly steady at 150/- to 186/-, and square shoulders 110/- cwt. LARD on the spot steady at about late rates, with 84/- to 85/- quoted for American refined, and 82/- to 83/- cwt.; prime steam compound dull at 58/- to 60/- cwt. CHEESE decontrolled from to-day, with free Canadian scarce at 154/- to 156/- cwt. for white, and 146/- to 148/- New Zealand, but coloured nominal. BUTTER firm, with Ministry's price of Australian to wholesalers 245/-, and New Zealand 267/- cwt. EGGS steadier at 19/6 to 21/- for Irish hen, and 24/- to 25/- per 120 for duck.

REFINED LARD FUTURES, Liverpool, Friday.—Chicago cables were better than expected, and prices here improved 9d. per cwt., but trading was less active and confined to May delivery at 75/6 to 76/6, while there were sellers of April at 78/-, with 75/9 bid for July at the early session. Weak afternoon cables caused a sharp reaction, and final rates showed a decline of 6d. to 1/- from last night, May selling at 75/- to 74/9, and July 74/6 cwt.

MANCHESTER, Friday.—BUTTER—Large quantities of Danish are arriving, and meet a keen demand at prices approximating Government rates; an advance of 26 kroner is reported from the other side. BACON—American slow; fair quantities of Danish and Irish on the way, the former at open prices, and the latter at 200/- to 210/- ex factory. LARD unchanged; refined 84/- to 85/-. CHEESE—Only small quantities offering on the spot. EGGS rather firmer; Irish, 20/6 to 21/-, Danish nominal.

DUBLIN FISH, Friday.—There was a fair market of white fish from country and local boats, including a liberal quantity from Dingle, including 300 boxes mackerel, also 25 packages salmon and 10 chests lobsters on market. Trade slow. Salmon and lobsters realised satisfactory prices, but white fish cheap. Salmon, 3/- to 3/6 and 3/9 per lb.; best lobsters 20/- to 30/- per 12; seconds, 12/6 to 17/6; smalls, 5/- to 10/- per 12; turbot, 3/- to 10/- and 12/- each; hal. 6d. to 3/- and 4/- each; best soles, 20/- to 25/- per 9 pairs; mediums, 10/- to 15/-; slips, 5/- to 7/6 per 9 pairs. Large plaice, 4/- to 6/- per 4; others, 3/- to 6/- per 8; half-boxes plaice, 35/- to 50/-; cod fish, 10/- to 20/-; conger eels, 15/- to 20/-; mat. 10/- to 15/-; whiting, 8/- to 22/6; mackerel 7/6 to 12/6 per box.

DUBLIN FRUIT AND VEGETABLE, Friday.—There has been a mark time disposition in renewing fruit stocks owing to uncertainty and expected drop in prices, and spot supplies here are down to a light quantity. Apples and oranges on former scale of recent quotations. Vegetables gave a plentiful and varied offering, and auction sales were well attended. Broccoli fell sharply in value, and generally prices leant to cheaper side for everything. Rhubarb, however, very dear, viz., 5/- 6/6, 7/6, 8/-, 10/- and 11/- per doz. Broccoli, 2/6 to 4/6 and 4/- per dozen; seconds, 1/- to 1/9; ditto sprouting, 2/- to 3/- per tray and float, etc.; spinach, 6d. to 1/- per tray, and 5/- per bag; seakale, 2/- per doz.; Savoy cabbage, 5/- to 25/-, 30/- and 40/- per load; York, 20/-, 30/-, 50/- and 56/- per load; scallions, 5d. to 6d. and 7d. per bunch; Turnips, 4d. to 5d.; Swedes, 3/3 and 3/6 per cwt.; parsnips, 4/6 to 5/- per cwt.; carrots, 1/3 to 1/9 and 2/- per dozen bunches; salad, 4d. to 8d.; special, 1/6 per dozen; leeks, 3d. to 4d.; thyme, 6d. to 1/-; mint, 1/- to 1/6; parsley, 9d. to 1/3 per tray. Cut flowers slow. Tulips, 2/- to 2/6 per bunch; daffs., 3d. to 9d. ditto; lilies, 3s. to 4s.

HALSTON STREET POULTRY, Friday.—Supplies here remain disappointing, but trade likewise is without weight or energy. Chickens rate 2/4 to 2/6 per lb., dead, but top prices mostly attach to plump soft character birds, hardy cockerels being less in favour with buyers. Fat hens, 1/3 to 1/5 per lb., but experience a slow-er inquiry; young ducks approximate 1/8 per lb., dead, and fatted old around 4/- each; Guinea fowl, 5/-; rabbits, 1/4 each; young pigeons, 1/9; old, 9d.; quails, 1/- each.

BILLINGSGATE FISH, Friday.—Supply fair; demand steady. Salmon, 35d. to 39d.; salmon trout, 18d. to 30d.; soles, 14d. to 17d.; slips, 12d. to 16d. per lb.; live cels, 45/- to 50/-; dead, 35/- to 40/- per draft; turbot, 11/- to 12/-; brill, 10/- to 12/-; plaice, 6/- to 15/-; halibut, 12/- to 16/-; lemon soles, 14/-; cod, 4/- to 5/-; whiting, 3/-; hake, 13/- to 14/-; haddock, 5/- to 7/- per stone.

BUTTER AND EGGS.—LITTLE GREEN, Friday.—The decontrol of butter so far has exercised little real influence on our market. Of course previously fine butter was selling under what was supposed to be control values, and secondary classes, which were plentiful, were held above their relative worth. Cold stores butter is now practically cleared, except what is in Government hands. Fresh creams in the early part of the week were making 3/1, but at the close of the week are easy at 3/- per lb. Wholesalers are at some disadvantage, as creamery producers were asking 330/- and 336/- per cwt. on rail, and, of course, at these prices the former would be at a loss of freight, cartage, etc., not to speak of profit, so that pretensions of creamery manufacturers are altogether untenable, particularly so as Danish butter is expected to be on sale in Dublin next week, consignments being due at Liverpool on Monday or Tuesday next, and spot price there is spoken of as 280/- per cwt. There is little else of interest to note in the butter trade. Secondary description creams still run at 2/6 to 2/10½ per lb., and farmers' butter from 1/6 to 2/- and 2/2 per lb., but 2/- is hard to beat. With regard to eggs, the week opened on an easier basis of prices, but the closing disposition is in the stiffer direction, and 1/- per 120 advance is being asked in certain quarters; the rise, however, is by no means general, and the prospective position is, if anything, against sellers. In fact, there is an attitude of caution all round, both in the butter and egg sections, as little confidence attaches to current rates. For prime case hen eggs, 17/6 to 19/- is run of values, and up to 20/- for extra selected and repacked parcels. Seconds and smalls, say, from 14/- to 15/- per 120; duck eggs still on the scarce side, but easier in price; prime lots make from 25/- to 27/6 per 120; ordinary and inferior sorts anywhere from 20/- to 23/- and 24/- per 120.

CORK BUTTER, Friday.—Centrifugal creamery, 290/- to 280/-; factory, 270/- to 260/-; fresh butter, 243/- per cwt.

PRODUCE. — LONDON, Friday. — SUGAR—A salient feature was to be found in a brisk demand for all spot parcels, and full prices were secured. Foreign descriptions participated, inasmuch as British refiners deemed it advisable to curtail their selling quantities with a view to conserving their available stocks of fuel. COFFEE—Set market without new feature. All the finer home trade parcels are steady, but general trade quiet, awaiting resumption of auctions next week, when fair quantities will be offered. Futures quiet. COCOA market generally dull. TEA—There is a moderate business by private treaty, and market keeps steady. RICE is fair support, and market steady. Advices by cable from Burma are of a firm character. SPICE—Pepper market quiet, but sellers required steady prices. JUTE market again displayed firm features, Calcutta shippers showing a good deal of reserve, while secondhand sellers are not prominent. Meanwhile there is a sustained demand from near Continental spinners. Cables to hand to-day from Calcutta stated that prospects for sowing operations are not so favourable. Demand still runs largely upon spot lots. Hessians and twills firm, with moderate sales in force. NITRATE remains slow of sale. HEMP—There is not much trade stirring with ropemakers, but a very firm tone is apparent, and the general position at the moment appears to be in the direction of improvement [illegible]. SHELLAC steady, quiet. GAMBIER quiet, steady. COPRA market again weaker on pressure to sell and reserve of buyers. PALM KERNELS slow. RUBBER market presented a quiet and easier tone. Plantation crepe spot sold 11⅛d.; April 11⅛d., May-June 1/-; July-September 1/1, July-December 1/1¼, October-December 1/2⅛; standard smoked ribbed sheet spot sold 10⅛d. to 10⅛d.; April 10⅛d., May-June 10⅛d. to 10⅛d., July-December 1/0⅛; fine hard Para spot quoted 1/3 soft fine 1/1⅛d., and Caucho ball 9d. per lb. OILS—Linseed quiet, and forward positions easier; spot net naked 26/-. Turpentine steady. Petroleum—American spot 2/5½. Rosin quiet at previous quotations. TALLOW market quiet; stocks on hand amount to 40,537 casks. OILSEEDS—Linseed dull and weak. Rapeseed dull and easy. Cottonseed quiet. Ground nuts weaker. Castor and gingelly unaltered.

CLYDE CRUSHED SUGAR, Friday (Official Report).—Market quiet, but no change in prices to report.

HAY AND STRAW.—SMITHFIELD, Friday.—At opening time only a moderate quantity of hay had gathered on market, but subsequently supplies came in more freely, and ultimately totalled a heavy offering. Trade developed well for prime 1st and 2nd cuts [illegible]. Wheaten straw sold at 4/6 to 5/- per cwt., and oaten, rolled from 3/3 to 4/-, according to quality, and a few extra nice loads made 4/6 per cwt.

LIVERPOOL COTTON (Closing), Friday.—American futures at a decline, [illegible] points. Egyptian 7,953; May, 7,958; June, 7,961; July, 8,124; August, 8,050; September, 8,256. Sales, 3,000 bales; imports, 421. Egyptian quietly steady.

TRADE REPORT.—MANCHESTER, Friday.—Moderate progress is reported in cloth quarters, but numerous sellers have not so far felt the effect of improvement in the tone. India inquiry is spread over a wide area, and both China and the important Eastern outlets ask for quotations more freely. Home cloth buying has been quiet. [illegible] Egyptians strong, but quiet.

LADIES' MATCH.

ALL IRELAND XI. (6) v. WEST OF SCOTLAND (1).

A very good game was witnessed yesterday at Sandymount, when a side comprised of ten of the Irish International XI. secured a ready victory over the visiting touring side from the West of Scotland. One of the features of the game was the fine display of Miss Cochrane in the Scottish goal, and, although defeated six times, she brought off several very fine saves. The Scotch fulls were very sound, especially Mrs. McRae, who got through an immense amount of clever work. The visiting half line was not seen to as great advantage as against Leinster, Miss Imrie being the best. The forwards found the opposing half line and fulls difficult to pass. The winners were very sure in defence, and Misses Archdale and Coulter showed up well in the middle line. Except for a weakness in the circle, the forwards played well especially the wings and Miss O'Reilly. The first half saw the Irish ladies having most of the play, and following a smart drive by Mrs. Charley, Miss Pim got nicely away to centre for Miss O'Reilly to score. Following some good saves by Miss Cochrane, Miss McVeigh got in close to score a smart goal. Then from a clever centre from Mrs. Addy, Miss O'Reilly scored easily, and before the interval Miss Stewart added a goal from a melee in the circle. The Irish ladies led by 4 goals to nil at half-time. After a short attack on the Scottish goal had been repelled on re-starting the visitors' forwards got well away, and Miss O'Kelly's clearance being stopped [illegible] Miss McDougall to find an empty goal. Scotland did better after this, and Miss Archdale twice saved cleverly. Erratic shooting by the Irish attackers lost some fine chances, and Miss Cochrane saved some difficult shots in the following play. Eventually Miss McVeigh rushed a fifth score in, and before the finish Miss O'Reilly added a sixth with a very fast drive. Teams:—

All Ireland XI.—Miss M. O'Kelly; Mrs. Charley (capt.), Misses Shillington; E. O'Kelly, Archdale, Coulter; Pim, Stewart, O'Reilly, McVeigh, Mrs. Addy.

West of Scotland—Misses J. Cochrane; M. N. Scott, Mrs. McRae; Misses C. McTaggart, M. Yellowlees, A. Imrie (capt.); M. McDougall, M. Imrie, A. Taird, M. Kennedy, B. Rae.

ARMY CUP FINAL.

ROYAL MUNSTER FUSILIERS v. 2nd LEINSTER REGIMENT.

The Army Hockey Final, which was decided on the Officers' Club Ground at Aldershot, resulted in a mighty hard-fought and fast game, in which the 1st Royal Munster Fusiliers, the representatives of the Southern Command, won 3-1 against the 2nd Leinster Regiment (Colchester), champions of the Eastern Command, after extra time. Captain McCormack, who is only able to use his left arm, played a great game for the losers. There was no score in the first half, principally as the result of cup-tie excitement. The score-sheet, in fact, remained blank until twenty-five minutes after the re-start, when Flanaghan failed to make a good clearance from a shot by Eagar, and Boyd put the Munsters ahead. The Leinsters equalised almost immediately after, a good opening made by McCormack enabling Nolan to score. At full time the score was unaltered, as it was at the completion of the first period of extra time. Then, following a succession of free hits, Eagar got away and drove the ball past the goalkeeper after a fine run. A minute later he made the Munsters' goal the safe by netting a second time with a brilliant high shot. The Irishmen thus won, but the Leinsters put up a good fight. Teams:—

[illegible]

2nd Leinster Regiment—Private Flanaghan; Bandsman Jennessey, Sergeant Guilfoyle; Captain H. McCormack, Lieutenant F. K. Doyle, Lance-Corporal Norris; Lance-Corporal Dewan, Sergeant Nolan, Haughney, Boxer, and Private Cullinan.

UNIVERSITY COLLEGE RUGBY FOOTBALL CLUB.

TO THE EDITOR OF THE IRISH TIMES.

Sir,—I am instructed by the Committee of University College Rugby Club to write to you in reference to a belief which seems to be prevalent in Dublin Rugby circles in regard to our club. It is frequently hinted at, and, indeed, very often openly stated in the Press, that we experience a great amount of opposition from the other College clubs and from certain College sources.

It would not be fair to these clubs, etc., to let this assumption pass unchallenged. We wish, therefore, to state emphatically that we have experienced from them nothing but the most cordial support and friendly relations.—Yours, etc.,

R. P. DAVITT, Hon. Sec. U.C.R.F.C.

CHESS.

THE WORLD'S CHAMPIONSHIP.

A Havana telegram, dated Tuesday, says:—The sixth contest for the World's Chess Championship, which is proceeding here between Senor Capablanca and Dr. Lasker, adjourned this evening after 60 moves. Dr. Lasker, who had the white pieces, played a Ray Lopez opening. [illegible] blanca devoted 20 minutes to his own 16th move. After 24 moves it appeared as if the positions had become blocked. A few additional moves, however, obviated this. After the 37th move Dr. Lasker sealed the next move, and the game was adjourned.

Falkiner failed to add to his 379 (unfinished), and afterwards his only breaks were 280, 88, and 60. Inman's best were 107, 119, 280, and 136. Interval scores—Inman, 3,311; Falkiner (receives 500), 3,260.
